

Red Wings Schedule Press-Radio Night

The annual Rochester Press-Radio Club Night is scheduled tomorrow (Thursday, Aug. 20). Members of Rochester's media will exhibit their prowess, or lack of it, in a softball game against the championship Kodak Georgia Girls softball team.

A feature of Press-Radio Night every year is the $500 Matt Jackson Memorial Scholarship Award, given by the Red Wings in honor of the late Times-Union sports editor. It will be presented by his wife, May, to some youngster, boy or girl, through 14 years of age.

The Matt Jackson Memorial Scholarship was established several years ago because of Jackson's untiring interest in deserving young people and to perpetuate the memory of a man whose work helped preserve baseball for Rochester.

Friday, Aug. 21 is Stockholders Night and there will be a brilliant fireworks display after the game and music by Len Hawley's orchestra before and during the game. Featured this year will be the Clown Prince of Comedy, Max Patkin. Patkin, a former major league pitcher, has delighted thousands of Rochesterians with his antics

Cut Glass Lecture Slated at RIT

American cut glass, its characteristics, history and manufacture, will be the subject of a lecture-discussion by Dr. Benedict V. Favata at Rochester Institute of Technology Aug. 27, 7:30 p.m. in the Henry Lomb Room, located in the George Eastman Memorial Building.

Reservations for the program should be made by calling, writing or telephoning either Mr. Powell (464-2213 or the Extended Services Division (464-2216) at RIT. The cost is four dollars per person or six dollars for man and wife.

Saturday, Aug. 22, the Kodak Georgia Girls will make another appearance at Silver Stadium in an exhibition game against the championship AL's Green Tavern softball team.

The long home stand will conclude Sunday, Aug. 23, with German Day. Kilian Schmitt, well-known Rochester philanthropist, will donate $500 scholarships to RIT to two youngsters 14 and under as a feature of German Day which will include German hot dogs with sauerkraut, music before and during the game by a German Band and 10c beer.
