For Aquinas Gridders ... a Groan Session

By WHIT JOHNSON

Aquinas Institute started football practice last weekend — and before it was over the players were probably wishing they had stayed in shape since last season.

As it turned out, Coach Bob Rosmarino — not the gentlest mentor in the Diocesan League — made sure the Little Irish moved enough to work up a good sweat and unlimber a few summer muscles.

"It's all designed toward getting them into some kind of condition," said Rosmarino who begins his sixth season at the Dewey Avenue school.

Aquinas was just one of many area schools opening practice last week in preparation for the upcoming season.

The Irish, clad in maroon shorts, went through slightly more than an hour session of grass drills and other moan-and-groan exercises on the first day.

The sights and sounds were typical of an opening day practice.

As one overweight and tired lineman slowed up early while running a wind sprint, an assistant coach yelled at him, "Are you going to give up when you get in a game also?"

As a group of weary players reported to another coach near the end of the session, they were greeted with a cheerful,

BOB ROSMARINO

"This is fun. Good day to work. Right?"

There was no answer from the prospective football stars.

Rosmarino expressed satisfaction with the opening session.

But he did appear a little distressed as he stood on the sidelines watching his receivers run pass patterns.

Last season Aquinas captured the diocesan football title and closed with a 6 to 2 record.

The Irish open Sept. 18 in Schenectady against Mont Pleasant High School. Last year Aquinas was a 35-20 victor over the Capital District champs.

Lancer Fullback Mooney Coach

The Rochester Lancers' star fullback, Charlie Mitchell, has been named varsity soccer coach at Cardinal Mooney High School for the fall season.

This is Mitchell's first position as varsity coach. Last year he coached JV soccer at East and last summer he coached an Irondequoit Recreation Department team.

Ed Nietopski, Cardinal Mooney athletic director, made the appointment of the Scotland-born Mitchell, who was twice named to the American Soccer League All Star team.

Aquinas Club

Resumes Meetings

The Aquinas Sports Booster Club will hold the first of five scheduled dinner meetings at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 15, in the school cafeteria. The coaching staff will be introduced.

The group comprises parents of current students and alumni interested in the sports program. Louis Ricci is president and Louis DeGregorio is secretary-treasurer. Father Michael Biondi, CSB., is moderator.

The executive committee includes Bernard Doyle, Robert Foley, Robert LaVigna, Victor Moretti, Harry Pelcher, Rocky Pilaroscia and Karl Schmid.

ENROLLMENT DOWN

Los Angeles — (NC) — Enrollment statistics indicate 5,000 fewer students will attend Catholic elementary and high schools in the Los Angeles archdiocese in the 1970-71 school year. An enrollment of 160,000 pupils is expected. Msgr. Donald Montrose, secondary school superintendent, said chief cause for the decline was the rising cost of education, plus shortage of Religious teaching personnel.
