Monastery Sponsors Art Show

Elmira — Under sponsorship of Mount Saviour Benedictine Monastery, 80 prints made by artist Helen Siegl, widely known designer and book illustrator, will be shown in the area beginning this week.

Currently on display at the Arnot Art Gallery here, the collection will be displayed at the annual Mount Saviour Monastery fair on Sept. 20.

Mrs. Siegel is a long-standing friend of the monastery. She and her husband, Theodor, attended art school in Vienna after World War II with Brother David, one of the monks at the monastery.

Mrs. Siegl has worked exclusively as a printmaker since 1952. She held her first showing in Philadelphia in 1954, and some 40 since then. Her prints have been included in collections at many museums and academies throughout the nation. Mrs. Siegl and her family reside at Mt. Airy, northwest Philadelphia.
