Mayor Receives Film Replica

A replica of the program guide cover for the Rochester International Film Festival has been presented to Mayor Stephen May by William V. Creighton, chairman of the film event.

Mayor May is honorary chairman of the first Rochester Festival, which will film productions from at least 14 countries Oct. 17-25.

Designed to appeal to all age groups from elementary school to adult, the offerings will include a special children's film program and a section on black culture and history. Student and independent productions also will be screened.

Among feature productions already selected for showing are: The Traveler (Israel), Time of Roses (Finland), The Falcons (Hungary), Jusqu'au Coeur (Canada), The Gladiators (Great Britain), Pieces of Dreams (United States), Cyclists (Yugoslavia), Rubia's Jungle (Netherlands) and The Game (Poland).

Museum Slates Wildflower Show

An hour-long, color slide program of a great variety of American wild flowers will be the feature in the auditorium on the main floor of the Rochester Museum and Science Center, tonight, Sept. 23, at 8:15 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

Jack Englert, wild life photographer and Senior Photographic Specialist of the Eastman Kodak Company will narrate the story of his many journeys, taking the viewer on a picture trip through forests and fields.
