

Dinner to Benefit Inner City Group

"Corporations and Their Relationships to the Community" will be discussed at a fund-raising dinner for WEDGE, a community organization, at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 20, at the Maple-dale Party House.

Principal speaker will be Gerald T. Zornow, president of Eastman Kodak Co. Tickets at $25 each may be ordered from WEDGE, INC., 172 Jay St. (325-3781).

WEDGE is a community renewal group based in Brown Square, an inner city poverty pocket isolated by the Genesee River, the Inner Loop and the abandoned subway bed. Area population is described as 40 per cent Italian, 20 per cent Puerto Rican, 20 per cent Negro and 20 per cent White.

The all-volunteer group works out of a two-story Jay Street home for which funds were provided by local industry. The organization receives no government or Community Chest funds, and is maintained by church and individual contributions.

Proceeds from the Oct. 20 dinner will provide WEDGE with a full-time staff and will fund some of its programs.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
132ND ASSEMBLY DISTRICT

VOTE FOR BILL ROSENBERG ON LINE A
BRIGHTON, 12th, 13th, 14th and 21st WARDS

Bill Rosenberg believes that for quality education, both the public and private schools must co-exist. To that extent, Assemblyman Rosenberg voted for the following legislation:

1. Voted for equal bussing for public and private schools.
2. Voted for free text books for public and private schools.
3. Voted in 1970 for State aid to private schools for mandated expenses of record keeping, enrollments, testings and examinations.
4. He voted in 1970 to repeal the Blaine Amendment.

"The Democratic opponent, Stanley Marcus, has stated that he favors the phasing out of all Parochial schools."

Kwashiorkor -- What Is It?

We have seen pictures of children in undernourished countries with bloated-extended stomachs—that is kwashiorkor — a disease caused by protein deficiency—a hunger disease afflicting millions of children.

A missionary sister working with kwashiorkor patients in Africa spoke with us recently while visiting the United States. She said a child suffering with kwashiorkor has no energy; the skin loses its color and becomes cracked; the hair turns orange; the hands and belly become swollen; and the child makes a continuous whining cry.

"Kwashiorkor is just the beginning," Sister went on, "if help is not received the consequences are fatal: crippling, anemic dysentery, fever, death."

Kwashiorkor, as all diseases caused by malnutrition, is certainly a scandal of our "modern world" for IT NEED NOT BE. Sister kept repeating, "If our American Catholics only realized how much good missionaries are doing . . . how much more needs to be done . . . if they could only see it in person, their giving would triple."

Sister is just one of thousands of missionaries in Africa, Asia, and Latin America with this same plea. Food, clothing, and medicine are desperately needed . . . maintaining and expanding medical clinics, and providing training centers for native lay helpers are needed more now than ever before!

The Secretary of the Commission to Rehabilitate the East-Central State recently said, "Death from starvation in ex-Biafra may exceed numbers dead during the war — UNLESS funds for assistance increase."

Africa is just one example. Statistics tell us at least 400 million people are starving, half the human race suffers from deficiency diseases, and two thirds of the world is afflicted with some form of malnutrition.

These statistics may be difficult to imagine and may not move us, but what do they mean today in context to Christ's words: "I was hungry and you fed me . . . sick and you took care of me . . . whenever you did this for one of the least important of these brothers of mine, you did it for me?" Only you can answer that!

I beg for Sister and the Countless missionaries like her — I beg for the millions of God's children suffering and dying this very minute from diseases that need not be. I beg you to let the missionaries be your hands feeding and caring for the world's poor . . . to respond to Christ's words today by giving generously to the missions.
