

Hymns Against Pollution

The choir of Detroit's Central Methodist church sings amid a collection of nearly a ton of empty glass bottles. The unusual church decorations were part of an anti-pollution service during which the pastor, Dr. Dwight S. Large, told his congregation: "We live in a moment of history when people choose death, poisoning the air and water with chemicals and destroying the earth with sewage, pesticides and trash." (RNS)

Day of Atonement For Abortion Victims

Glasgow — (RNS) — The Roman Catholic Church in Scotland will observe Dec. 28 — the Feast of the Holy Innocents — as a day of prayer in sorrow for the "unborn victims of abortions." The English and Welsh hierarchy decided last April to make Dec. 28 an annual "Day of Atonement for abortion victims."
