Fiesta for St. Patrick

St. Patrick's Day at the World Institute of Business saw Irishmen and Puerto Ricans sharing their heritage. A St. Patrick's Day Fiesta was put on for the English-speaking students of the school by the Spanish-speaking. They are shown here dancing La Plena.

NCCW 'Person' Program

Nearly 65 parishes throughout the diocese were represented in the National Council of Catholic Women's "Fashion me a Person," program, held in two sessions the week of March 7, at the Cenacle Retreat House.

According to Mrs. Marie Firth, co-chairman of the event, the response generated by the program was very enthusiastic.

The NCCW program is a leadership training and encounter session headed by staff members from the council's Washington office. The program was designed at John Hopkins University.

A mid-week session of the

GERMAN GROUPS IN CONCERT

The Youth Orchestra of Verein Der Donau Deutschen, under the direction of Henry Doessl, will give a concert at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, March 27. Special guests will be Teutonia Liedertafel, under the direction of Dr. David Feller, at the Labor Lyceum, 580 St. Paul.

Deaths

Mr. Mockevicius

Charles Mockevicius of Farbridge Street, a resident of St. George's parish for 60 years, died unexpectedly Feb. 28, 1971, at the age of 77.

Principal concelebrants of the Mass of the Resurrection March 4 were his sons, Father Dominic, chaplain at Craig State School in Sonyea, and Father Charles Mockevicius of Massapequa Park, L.I.

Other survivors are his widow, Nellie; sons Bernard and Frank Elmer; three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Mockevicius, a native of Lithuania, was a tailor until his retirement in 1961. He was a member of the St. Peter and Paul Society.

Mrs. Messare

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated Feb. 20 at Nativity Church, Brockport, for Mrs. Margaret Messare, mother of Sister Anne Messare of Webster.

Mrs. Messare died Feb. 16, 1971. For more than 20 years she had cooked for Nativity convent and rectory, and she was known in the area for her home-baked goods.

Survivors include her husband, Joseph, and three other children, Ruth, Peggy Jo and Peter.

Cenacle Schedules Women's Retreat

The Cenacle Retreat House, 693 East Ave., is offering retreats for women during the next two weekends — March 28-29 and April 2-4. Each opens at 6:30 p.m. Friday and closes Sunday afternoon.

Groups from St. Charles Borromeo and Sacred Heart have reserved places for this weekend, but registration is still open. Father Leopold Protomastro, OFM Cap, will direct the program. The Palm Sunday weekend retreat will be directed by Father John Walchors of Cranwell School, Lenox, Mass.

REVEREND MONSIGNOR EDWARD T. O'MEARA
NATIONAL DIRECTOR

A character in Greek mythology was the beautiful Narcissus who saw his reflection in the water and fell in love with himself.

During Lent we have reflected on ourselves and our life. Have we seen ourselves alone as Narcissus did or in the reflection of Christ?

A "spiritual narcissus" (one who loves only himself) strives for perfection for his own sake. Today's Narcissus fasts and abstains to enhance his own discipline, possibly to lose weight, and even to boast to others about all he gives up for Lent. He prays: "Make me better; give me grace" without including others. He understands virtue to mean self-perfection for his own esteem.

Jesus withdrew many times to reflect, to pray alone, and to come to grips with Himself. But each time His retreat led him back to others—to give Himself in teaching, healing, comforting, feeding the hungry, to dying on a cross.

Jesus tells us to fast and pray so others may be given life. He tells us to pray in the plural: "Our Father . . . give us this day." And He capsulizes virtue in one command: "Love one another."

Lent is a time to withdraw, to reflect, to fast and pray, to come to grips with ourselves—in relation to others. It is a time to rid ourselves of the "Narcissus" in each of us—to find that real life, real virtue, real Christianity, is giving to others. Lent means nothing if it does not include the cross; and the cross of Christ was carried and raised that others may have life.

The suffering-poor of the world look at themselves and see no help. They can only look to us for relief. They need food, clothes, and medicine; they need education, spiritual nourishment; they need the Good News of Christ.

Missionaries are giving the Easter message to the world's suffering-poor, but they cannot do it without your giving too. What can you give to others in need today? A lively concern for them; a prayer life that includes their needs; and a Eucharistic life that believes and receives all men as brothers.

And you can give the necessary financial support to their missionaries. Your money is a symbol and reflection of your life: your time spent working, your means of sustenance and well being.

It is a reflection of a person who loves, not as Narcissus, but as Christ. Your love gives to millions a meaning in life . . . it gives them Easter. Please send a generous sacrifice for the missions today in celebration of the glorious Easter Faith we proclaim to the world!

Send your special sacrifice today!

SALVATION AND SERVICE are the work of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. Please cut out this column and send it with your offering to Reverend Monsignor Edward T. O'Meara, National Director, Dept. C., 365 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001, or directly to your local Diocesan Director, Rev. Joseph F. Reinhart, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester, N. Y. 14604
