

A Couple of Coffeys for ITHACA

Ed and Joan Coffey

The Diocese of Rochester, New York

In an effort to provide better coverage of the Ithaca area, the Courier-Journal has added the Coffeys, Ed and Joan, as Ithaca correspondents.

Ed Coffey is a first-year law student at Cornell University and is a graduate of Villanova University. He is a staff member of the Cornell International Law Journal.

A veteran of Navy service, Ed has seen a bit of the world, with stopovers in California, Rhode Island, South Carolina and Halifax, Nova Scotia; where he taught in the communications school.

Joan was graduated from Barat College of the Sacred Heart in Illinois and is a qualified high school teacher of English and history, doing substitute work in the Ithaca system.

The Coffeys claim an unusual achievement—over the course of college and Navy duty, they have written more than 2,000 letters to each other.

If you have news for the Courier, give the Coffeys a call.
