Will the real Holy Cross seventh graders please step forward? They are (l.-r.) Carol Ristuccia, Danny Cicero, Tom Urtis and Anita Pecoraro, all standing behind models of themselves, constructed by their classmates.

Holy Cross Seventh Graders

A Little 'Body-Work'?

Making models of people's insides was the year long science project for two seventh grades at Holy Cross School this year.

Under the direction of science teacher H. Richard Mosher, the students studied the different systems of the body and put together models of those systems.

According to Mosher, the students from each class chose two of their classmates to act as models for the project. One class chose Thomas Urtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Urtis of Holden St., and Anita Pecoraro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pecoraro of Lake Ave.

The other class chose Daniel Cicero, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cicero of Cheltenham Rd. and Carol Ristuccia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ristuccia of Edgemere Dr.

Mosher said the students spent three weeks working on the metric system and proportions to make the bones of the models' skeletons as exact in size as possible.

Mosher said he instructed the classes to use their own ideas to complete the other systems of the bodies.

Original ideas included real false teeth, supplied by Richard Casserino; and Frank Spoto brought in a plaster impression of teeth.

The most exacting work was done by Elizabeth Snyder who drew the 120 individual bones of the hands and feet for one model.

State Hospital Requests Homes

Rochester State Hospital needs family care homes for male patients who have been approved to leave the hospital.

These patients are able to care for themselves; however, they are often unable to live alone but could get along nicely if they had an interested and concerned person or family to live with.

This program has been in operation 30 years and has proved successful in helping the mentally restored adjust to community living, according to Russell Barton, director of the facility.

Patients are well behaved and thoroughly evaluated by the hospital before placement, Dr. Barton said.

The hospital will take care of any medical, dental or psychiatric problems.

Interested people would provide room and board; and the state will pay $150 per month for room and board for each patient in the home.

Persons interested in learning more about family care, please contact: Mrs. S. J. Robertson, Rochester State Hospital, Telephone: 473-3230 Ext. 424.

ANGELO DiNIERI HONORED

Angelo L. DiNieri, 74, was honored June 4 at a First Friday luncheon for his golden anniversary as an insurance representative, which he observed Sunday, June 6.

At the luncheon, a citation from Mayor Stephen May cited Mr. DiNieri's faithful service to his clients, the community, and the church. Arthur Kelly, assistant to Congressman Frank Horton presented Mr. DiNieri with a flag that flew over the Capitol in Washington. A papal blessing is being sent to Mr. DiNieri from the Vatican.
