

Nazareth to Celebrate 100 Years

Nazareth Academy will open a year of celebration commemorating 100 years of service to the city of Rochester, Sunday, Sept. 19.

The opening event will be a Mass of Thanksgiving at 3 p.m. at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart on Flower City Park followed by a reception at Nazareth Academy, 1001 Lake Avenue.

Bishop Joseph L. Hogan will be the main celebrant with Auxiliary Bishop Dennis Hickey, and Fathers John Hayes, Daniel Brent, Leon Hart, CSB, Charles Connell, Brian Murphy, O. Carm., and Kevin Driscoll, O. Carm.

On the same day at 8:30 a.m., a centennial Mass for shut-ins will be televised over Station WHEC. Father Charles Connell will be celebrant. This television time was made available through the courtesy of Father Albert Gaelens, CSB, principal of Aquinas Institute.

Sister Annunciata, Principal of Nazareth Academy, stated that the Mass will be the highlight of the Centennial Events. Sister said that it will give the generations of Nazareth graduates an opportunity to share with the Sisters of St. Joseph and the faculty of Nazareth an expression of gratitude to God for His sustaining help and guidance in the Christian education of youth. Present and former members of the Nazareth Perosian Choir will lend their voices to the Mass of Thanksgiving.

More than 12,000 young women have been graduated from Nazareth Academy since its opening on Jay Street in 1871. Mother Stanislaus Leary was the first directress of the Academy and the educational program conformed to that of European Convent academies.

Although Nazareth Academy has held annual commencement exercises from the first year of existence, the first high school graduate, Jane Leary, received her diploma in 1877 and later entered the community of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Following that first graduate who chose to follow the religious way of life have been a long line of religious, not only in the Sisters of St. Joseph, but also in other diocesan and missionary communities. Three general superiors of the Sisters of St. Joseph — Mother Agnes Hines, Mother Helene Garvin, and Mother Agnes Cecilia Troy, present mother general, and four principals — Sister Adelaide Carberry, Sister Hubertine Turner, Sister Jamesetta Slattery, and Sister Annunciata McCabé are alumnae of Nazareth Academy. Mother Agnes Cecilia also has served as principal.

In 1971, Nazareth graduated 219 young ladies.

Local Man to be Ordained A Franciscan Priest

William Riley of Holy Cross parish, who entered the Order of Friars Minor in 1965 as Brother Daniel Paul, will be ordained to the priesthood this Saturday, Sept. 11, in Washington.

Bishop Joseph L. Bernardin will confer the sacrament at the Franciscan Monastery church.

Father Daniel will say his first Mass at noon, Sept. 18, in his home church. He is the son of Mrs. James L. Riley of Harding Road, and the late Mr. Riley.

He joined the Franciscans after completing the pre-medical course at St. Bonaventure University. He took a degree in philosophy at Catholic University while working as a counselor at the District of Columbia Receiving Home for Children. Last May he completed master's degree studies in theology at the Washington Theological Coalition, a pastoral and ecumenical graduate school.

Lately, Father Daniel has been preparing for the campus ministry. He expects to join the chaplaincy at St. Bonaventure this Fall.

Geneseo Honors African Priest

Geneseo — More than 200 friends of Father Edward Ndekero gathered Sunday afternoon, Aug. 22, at St. Mary's Parish Center in Geneseo to say goodbye before he left to attend the University of Pittsburgh. There he will study for a Master's Degree in geography before returning to his homeland to teach and pursue priestly duties.

Father Edward, a native of Tanzania, region of Kilimanjaro, East Africa, has been making his home at St. Mary's rectory in Geneseo while attending the State University of New York at Geneseo for the past two years and assisting Father Charles Reynolds, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Church, in Leicester and Father Walter Carron of St. Mary's with parish work.

"It is with much regret that the parishioners of St. Mary's say goodbye to Father Edward. He has endeared himself not only to the Geneseo congregation but to many others in the area who have come to know him," a well-wisher said.

Making the Diocese Run

By BARBARA MOYNEHAN

Cheery, large offices house the busy diocesan tribunal on the third floor of 50 Chestnut St. "The number of cases that are heard here is approximately 150 a year," reported Monsignor Gerard C. Krieg, who has been the presiding judge of the diocesan courts since he was appointed to the office by Bishop James E. Kearney in 1965.

The diocesan tribunal as he defined it, "is the diocesan court of which the bishop is the judge. Through the centuries the bishop has traditionally exercised the two-fold function of administrator and judge.

"In 1918 with the publication of the present code of canon law the office of Officialis, or presiding judge, was established. This office is filled by one who exercises the bishop's jurisdiction as his vicar in judicial matters. And since the appointment of the officialis, most bishops have stayed out of it," Msgr. Krieg explained.

One of the roles of the tribunal is to attempt to keep a dynamic stability in marriages by presenting the Church's teaching regarding it. "One thing we've been doing is going from legal impediments to psychological impediments and as psychiatrists learn more of human nature the scope of the tribunal activity must increase.

"We are competent also to handle any matters that require legal redress in ecclesiastical matters, but marriage cases are all we have done, practically speaking, for a couple of centuries," he admitted, "though in theory we can get all kinds of situations. Canonization and beatification are handled by the tribunal on a local level, for example.

"Marriages are referred to our office through parish priests. There are many different types of cases. Formal cases are those where intent or psychological ability are in question. Other cases are those based on legal impediments such as lack of proper official witness to the marriage (Catholics must be married before a priest), or the presence of a prior bond.
