

MEADOWLARK LEMON

Globetrotters
To Play Here

The fabled, fun-making Harlem Globetrotters are coming to Rochester War Memorial Saturday Nov. 20, to put on their basketball entertainment program that's been witnessed by 68 million fans in 87 countries during the past 45 years.

The Globetrotters will meet the Boston Shamrocks in the feature of a giant-sized program starting at 8 p.m.

The game will be backed up by entertainment personalities the Globetrotters bring along for the pre-game and between-halves variety show.

"We have new routines and new gags, plus several exciting new players, comprising the family entertainment package this season, explained general manager George Gillett.

"We brought over 40 rookies into our training camp this season and I've never seen such outstanding talent," Gillett said. "The 46th edition team is the finest in years."

Plans Mapped
At St. Gabriel's

Hammondsport — Several men of St. Gabriel's Church met with their pastor, Father Charles L. McCarthy, to discuss various items of parish interest.

Among topics explored were duties of lectors and ushers; possibility of forming a parish council; a men's retreat at Notre Dame in Canandaigua; installation of a canopy over the entrance to the church hall and addition of a second powder room in the hall; and plans for a parish dinner-dance Saturday, December 4.

Present were Ted Banach, Stephen McChesney, Dan McLaughlin, Michael Moretti, Louis Natale, Ross Putnam, and Dan Wright.

Father McCarthy also received a request to look into the possibility of the parish having a Sunday bulletin.

Students Collect $300 for Missions

Aquinas Institute sent $300 to the Propagation of the Faith for Mission Sunday, according to William McCarthy, mission moderator at the school. The money was obtained in home-room collections.

Each year, the students contribute to the support of 21 graduates who are working in the mission field, McCarthy said. Class leaders working with him are Anthony Nigier, Joseph Vella, Peter Jann and Fred Herman.

ENTERTAINS AT HOSPITAL

Auburn — Approximately 20 members of the Newman Club, backed by donations from the Auburn Community College student body, gave Halloween parties in the children's ward and the nursing home pavilion of Auburn Memorial Hospital.
