

Special Gift

Mayor Stephen May recently presented the pupils of Holy Childhood School with a giant Mickey Mouse watch. At a ceremony at the school at 215 Andrews St. the mayor told Sister Seraphine, the principal, that he had received the watch as a gift from participants in last year's Walt Disney show at the War Memorial. The watch has a picture of Mickey Mouse on its face and has a wide orange strap. It operates with electricity.

must do the same with children," she said.

Miss Zangle and Mrs. Dixon agreed that Dr. Glasser's approach is more realistic in that it allows more involvement and mixing among students, and between students and teachers.

The teachers' and principals' training in the Schools Without Failure seminars did not stop when they left Immaculate Conception on Wednesday. They will meet again after going back to their classrooms to try out what they learned.
