An Automatic Dishwasher Who needs it? No one really.

Certainly every one of us could survive without one. Until just a few years ago, we were doing quite nicely washing our dishes by hand. Because there was no other way.

That's the point. There is another way; times have changed. And so has your lifestyle.

An automatic dishwasher has become one of those things that, once you have one, you never want to be without one again.

The funny thing is, people who have dishwashers bought them for the convenience. Do they know about all the other good reasons for having an automatic dishwasher? (Maybe they don't even care.)

A Neater Kitchen

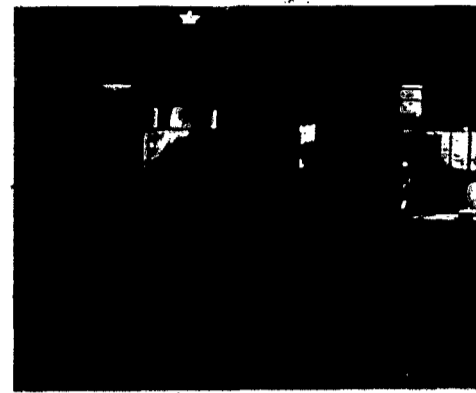

Like a dishwasher keeps a kitchen neat, because dirty dishes can be loaded and shut out of sight, until a full load is collected. A dishwasher works most economically at full or nearly full capacity.

And how a dishwasher gets dishes hygienically clean? They are washed in 140 to 160 (degrees Fahrenheit) water and they are sanitized. Families find they get fewer colds because fewer germs are passed around.

More Held and Finally . . .

And one more thing. It's a lot easier to get the rest of the family to clean up after their snacks and quick meals when they know they won't have to wash their dishes. Even doing the dinner dishes is no longer such a time-consuming chore with an automatic dishwasher.

So who needs an automatic dishwasher? Like, we said, no one. Not even you. But necessity is not really the issue, is it?

Have Any Questions?

All during this month, you can find out anything you want to know about automatic dishwashers at our Consumer Information Center.

One of our Home Economists will be on hand Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Tuesday evening from 7 to 8:30, to answer your questions. Like how much, and what type of detergent to use. Or how a water softener can affect your dishwashing — or clothes washing, for that matter.

We'll answer just about any question you have about running your home. Stop in soon. The Consumer Information Center is located on the main floor of 89 East Avenue.

One more thing we'd like you to know about dishwashers. We have many makes and models in our Appliance Sales Department. Visit us and look over our selection of built-ins, portables or convertible models.

The Appliance Sales Department is open Tuesdays and Thursdays til 9 p.m., Saturdays until noon.
