Monsignor the Publisher

By MARY ANN GINNERTY

Auburn — There is a Monsignor behind the press that runs off St. Mary's Parish bulletin entering its fourth issue.

For Msgr. James D. Cuffney, the press is a hobby, but for the parish he is a handy man to have around. "Off the Cuff" the bulletin's name, is mailed into the home of all parishion-ers — with Monsignor runnning off the communication, publication costs are kept to the bare minimum.

The parish bulletin came into existence as it was the concern of the priests and advisory. board that a top priority be the facilitation of greater communication within the parish which draws from a city-wide area. It was felt a parish newspaper was the best means to provide this type of communication.

While still in its infancy, the newspaper is increasing in size as it carries church calendar news, commentaries from the parishioners, parish needs and concerns.

A bright spot is Sister Dorothy's Corner, written by the parish assistant, as she keeps the parishioners posted on her work epecially with the elderly.
