

SEA FISH Two Years Old

SEA FISH, or Southeast Area Friends in Service Here, starts its third year this week. Members will celebrate the anniversary Friday night, from 8 until 10, at Asbury First United Church.

The organization of volunteers supplies short-term emergency help in the southeast quadrant of the city. In two years, it has answered more than 5,000 calls and now averages 350 calls a month, according to Mrs. John McCarthy. Many of these come from the elderly people who constitute about one quarter of the 41,000 population, Mrs. McCarthy said.

CALC MEETING

A panel discussion and workshops on "The cost of peace-making" will be sponsored by Rochester Clergy and Laymen Concerned at the University of Rochester Interfaith Chapel at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 24.
