Retired Postmaster Honored at Dinner

Moravia — Miss Mary I. Ward, a postal employe here for more than 50 years, and postmaster since 1951, was guest of honor at a recent dinner at Dutch Hollow Country Club. She retired March 31.

The dinner was given by the Cayuga County Postmasters Association. The 175 guests included representatives of post offices throughout the county, the Tri-County Postmasters' Association and the Sectional Center, Syracuse. Father William J. Gaynor, pastor of St. Patrick's, Miss Ward's parish, gave the invocation and benediction.

Miss Ward joined the postal service as a substitute clerk in November, 1920. She lives with a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hart of West Cayuga St.

Parish Celebrates Right to Life

By MARY ANN GINNERTY

Auburn — The awe and beauty of human life were thoughts reflected in the poster contest sponsored by St. Alphonsus parish in conjunction with "Right-to-Life-Sunday", April 16.

First prize winners were Diana Griffin, grade 2 at Owasco elementary school, Mary Magee, sixth grade student at St. Alphonsus and Kathleen Musico, grade 5, Owasco.

Much thought was put into the works depicting the value of human life. Diana's poster portrayed various phases of life — family life, grandparents' life, friendships. Mary's collage of people from all segments of life bore the caption, "Who Has the Right to Life? Everyone!" Kathleen's caption, "If everyone were like the Good Samaritan, the World Would be better off," illustrated the story of the Good Samaritan.

This contest was one of the efforts made by St. Alphonsus to show the value in a family thinking and talking together about the dignity of human life. First prize winners received tickets for their families to see "Fiddler on the Roof."

Other "Right-to-Life-Sunday" activities included a pro-life youth choir at Mass, with children singing, "I'd Like to Teach the World", "Whatever You Do", "Let There be Peace on Earth", and "To Be Alive."

The theme was summed up in the sermon, "Each Day Is Right-to-Life-Sunday."
