

St. James Mercy Lists Changes

Hornell — Promotions, an addition to the staff, and a HEW grant are all making for an exciting summer at St. James Mercy Hospital.

In the promotions line, William Connors has been named assistant administrator of the hospital; and Paul Shephard, the man Connors replaces, will head up the direct patient care departments.

Both men are parishioners of St. Ann's Church.

Mrs. Ellen Herzman recently joined the staff of the hospital as head of the occupational therapy department.

A native of Yonkers, Mrs. Herzman was last the acting

Father Cuddy Goes on Radio

Hornell — Father Paul J. Cuddy, Courier-Journal columnist, has begun a 15-minute weekly program on radio station WLEA here.

The program consists of a brief talk, two decades of the Scriptural Rosary and religious music. It is aired at 9:15 Saturday mornings.

Rochester Native:

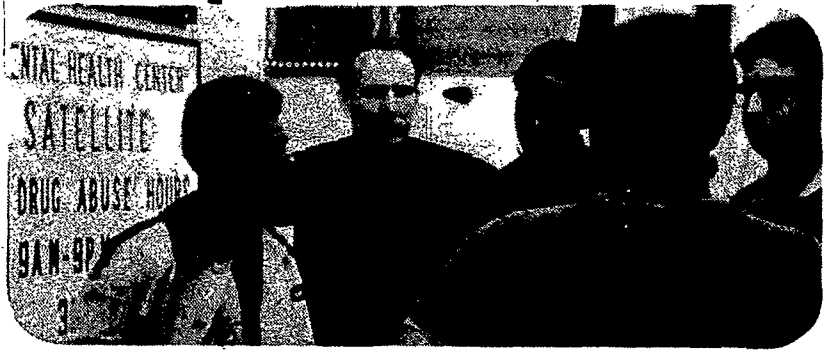

Fr. Wagner Helps Addicts

A Rochester native serving as assistant pastor at St. Veronica's Church, Cherry Hill, Md., is a founder of a drug addicts rehabilitation program.

Father Richard F. Wagner, SSJ, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Wagner, of Rochester, and a member of the Josephite Fathers has begun a drug treatment center. It will be completed in August, as a part of the Cherry Hill Road Multipurpose Complex; a center which houses many city and state social services.

Michael A. Elliott, writing for the Baltimore Catholic Review, reported that Father Wagner and Father Paul H. Banet, SSJ, have to do most of the work themselves, because they are the "only ministers who live in the community."

Father Wagner calls his program "the best drug facility in the state."

Cherry Hill, Md., a part of Baltimore, has had a significant drug problem for years.

According to Elliott's report, Father Wagner said, "The reasons drugs are such big business is because in a poor black community, it is the most successful business. There is no end to the profit. I've seen 18-year-old kids with rolls of $20 bills. This is a survival community. People want a chance to own a color TV or a new toaster. This gives them the opportunity to buy them."

Father Wagner was raised as a member of St. Monica's parish in Rochester, and attended six years at St. Andrew's Seminary.
