

Sue Bzupinka stands in the wreckage of her mother's home and watches volunteers work on salvage effort.

has surveyed approximately 1,500 eligible; found 45 cases where Oper- was needed; and gotten a parish to- y in 34 cases.

sn't happy with these figures. "We s of families," he says, "if only we ' Under the rebuild program, house- materials out of federal loans and ork.

St. Mary's is headed by two men the building trades, and both un- f efforts of the national agencies.

erking around," says Bob Pfunt- e better time." As it is, he explains, to wait on certain parts of rebuild- relief will take care of it instead.

nett says, "There's only six weeks heat in here — and they've already " Everywhere in Corning and Elmira, people are looking forward with a certain trepi- dation to Oct. 15, the date on which they have been told they should have their furnaces working.

Despite the general shortage of house trailers, one was delivered to and installed on the Marmuscak prop- erty through an administrative mix-up with HUD. Sit- ting there, it gives some credence to the claims of Mrs. Bzupinka that the government "doesn't know what it's doing."

There are two houses on the Marmuscak property, one for Mrs. Marmuscak and one that provided her only income through rentals, in addition to Social Security.

Pfuntner thinks it will take 500 man-hours, with luck, to get the residence, alone, liveable. After five weekends of work, only about 100 effective man-hours have been put in, he estimates.

Although things are still bleak, every time she looks, at her mother's house, Sue Bzupinka says, "Thank God for these people from Dansville."

Weariness shows on face of volunteer Kramer as he rests from job facing small, part-time team.

Structures on Marmuscak land show results of flood.

tile.