Newman No Longer a 'Club'

By LILLA LICHT

Ithaca — Drive along the outer road to the north corner of Ithaca College campus, and there in the basement of Dorm 3, a side door reads Campus Ministry. I went there to interview Father Philip Lioi, Catholic chaplain at Ithaca College, in order to learn what is happening within the Catholic community on campuses today.

There are a number of colleges in the Ithaca area — Keuka, Elmira, Tompkins-Cortland, Cornell and Ithaca. They have at least 5,000 Catholic students.

We asked Father Lioi, "What has happened to Newman Club?"

"Newman Clubs," he said, "no longer define the Catholic on campus. Rather throughout the United States it is the Catholic Campus Ministry."

The purpose is to get away from club status and instead try to stress that there is no church or special meeting place but for people to depend on each other. Mass is said in sev-

St. Bernard's Seminar To Focus on Councils

All priests of the diocese, especially those engaged in parishes with a council or engaged in regionalization activities, are invited to a Group Dynamics Workshop at St. Bernard's Seminary as part of the seminary's Continuing Education for Clergy program.

The workshop will be conducted by Father David L. Gaesser in connection with the Year of Renewal and will run eight successive Wednesdays, beginning Oct. 25.

The outline for the series:

1st week: What type of role does the priest or pastor perform within a parish board: resource person? decision maker? chairman? facilitator? How much authority can lay people have in a parish board?

2nd week: How can a parish board be formed in such a way as to be an effective board? How critical is honesty and freedom within a board meeting?

3rd week: How meaningful goals can be established for the group. How can responsibility be assigned for establishing the goals?

4th week: A study of group process.

5th week: A study of group maturity and group climate.

6th week: A study of the use of different types of evaluation to improve parish boards.

7th week: A study of scapegoating, personal risk in groups and obligation of leaders toward group members.

8th week: Problems in working with parish boards.

Registrations are still being accepted at St. Bernard's Academic Office, 254-1020. There is no fee.
