

Bath Knights Hear Stevens

By PEGGY PEASE

Hammondsport — The Bath Council of the Knights of Columbus recently held their Communion breakfast at St. Gabriel's church hall.

Members were present from Bath, Hammondsport, Bradford and Campbell.

The guests were welcomed by Ted Banach of Hammondsport who is the deputy grand knight of the council. Grace and blessings were offered by the pastor, Father Charles L. McCarthy.

Banach described the activities of the Council, which includes programs with emphasis on Christianity and charity. Also the council is working diligently at "putting Christ back into Christmas."

Banach introduced Dr. Eldred J. Stevens, director of the Physically Handicapped Children's program in Steuben County. Dr. Stevens outlined the program and commended the area of C for including interest in the physically handicapped children's program among their activities.

He explained the county program and stated that it includes children up to the age of 21 years; and is for those children whose parents can pay none or only part of the cost of services. He said that "too few people know anything about this program or even that it exists".

'Turn Out Week' Focuses on Drugs

By LILLA LIGHT

Ithaca — Oct. 15-22 was declared "Turn Out Week" in Tompkins County. Programs focusing on Drug Education and Abuse were conducted, the purpose to provide a community-wide effort to bring awareness to the problem of drug abuse at all age levels and develop responsible actions toward the solution to the problem.

The programs were the culmination of months of planning by Richard Murdock, Tompkings County drug coordinator and the Drug Education Committee of ACT, an ecumenical group chaired by Mrs. James Carey of Immaculate Conception Parish and Mrs. Robert Wells of St. Paul United Methodist Congregation.

The week-long program involving many community leaders and concerned citizens included youth groups and persons occupied with drug rehabilitation and alternatives.

In conjunction with the program, an evening entitled, "A Community Problem to be Shared through Eyes, Ears, Lips and Hearts" was held at St. Catherine of Siena Parish Center in Cayuga Heights. The program was coordinated by Mrs. Loretta Wilmarth, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Reniff.

The program included a film, "Brian at Seventeen," a classic example of an intelligent teenager on the verge of accepting drugs.

Jason Wittman, director of Alpha House, conducted the discussion that followed.
