

Women to Celebrate World Community Day

By Lilla Licht

Trumansburg — World Community Day will be celebrated at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, at St. James the Apostle Church. The women of the parish will be host to Christian women of the community in the social hall.

World Community Day is sponsored here each year by the Trumansburg Area Council of Churches which has ten member churches. This year's theme, "A Coming of Age," introduces a new direction in the annual program. Youth and adults will join hands as together they recognize that, "mature Christian citizenship is never an accomplished fact but for all of us it is a constant process of 'coming of age'."

Representatives of the various churches who have been involved in the planning of this year's program include: Mrs. Noble Abrahams of the Episcopal Church; Mrs. Margaret Clark, Covert Baptist; Mrs. Roberta Cook, Jacksonville Methodist; Mrs. Leona Davis Searsburg United Church of Christ; Mrs. John Duddleston, First Presbyterian; Mrs. Polly Kern, Trumansburg Methodist; Mrs. Kermit Leonard, Mechlenburg Methodist; Mrs. Paul VanDermark, St. James, Mrs. Elizabeth VanDerzee, Perry City Friends Church, and Mrs. Jane Walden, First Baptist.

Edward Prevost, director, and the Charles O. Dickerson High School girls' chorus, will take part in the service.

The leader for the readings will be Mrs. Ralph Low. Women from each church will participate in a "dream share-in," speaking aloud their dreams for a better Christian world.

The offering this year will go into the Intercontinental Mission fund, for work largely by and for women on six continents. The fund will help establish a program on social and economic development among women in the Caribbean area provide money to enable the participation of minority women in a variety of decision-making conferences, give budget assistance for a Christian women's world conference on peace building and support training sessions for church women who volunteer to serve in adult basic education programs and health care systems.
