Aquinas Band Triumphs In Inter-State Pageant

The Aquinas Marching Band and Color Guard captured six out of a possible ten first place awards in competition against 42 other bands from New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey at the Sherburne Pageant of Bands June 2 in Sherburne, N.Y.

First place was taken in the color guard competition in which Steve Magee was presented the Best Captain Award. The 92-member band also placed first in the parade and field show competition and third place in the concert competition.

Points totaled from the various competition categories enabled the band, supported by the majorettes from Nazareth Academy, to win the Albert Whitney Achievement Award for overall pageant performance.

Alfred M. Fabrizio, Jr., music director for the Aquinas Institute, received the Frank L. Miller Outstanding Director Award.

school to enter and we were competing against schools twice our size," he said.

"I was extremely happy that we received these awards especially since we were the only Catholic

The Aquinas Institute is in the Class AA division for schools with enrollments of 1000 or more.

Deaths

D.C. Stoffel

Douglas C. Stoffel, a lifelong resident of Irondequoit, died June 4, 1973, at the age of 83.

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated Friday at St. Cecilia's.

Mr. Stoffel was a retired captain of the New York Central police. In his 36 years with the railroad agency, which he joined in 1919, he was involved in the protection of visiting presidents ranging from Warren C. Harding to Dwight D. Eisenhower. He was a member of the Newport Yacht Club, the Rochester Police Veteran Association and the Irondequoit Historical Society. He lived at 54 Woodridge Court.

Surviving are his widow, Marie; two sons, Charles and Donald; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

George C. Green
