

Variety of Issues On Bishops' Agenda

Washington, D.C. [RNS] — The election of four delegates to the 1974 World Bishops' Synod in Rome, "Communion in the hand," a policy statement on population and other issues will confront some 250 Roman Catholic bishops at their annual meeting here Nov. 12 to 16.

The bishops, meeting under the joint auspices of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops and the U.S. Catholic Conference, will launch their five days of discussion with a keynote address by Cardinal John Krol of Philadelphia, president of the NCCB and USCC.

On Wednesday, Nov. 14, the bishops will gather at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception for their annual Mass. Cardinal John Carberry of St. Louis, who headed a commission that produced a pastoral letter on the Blessed Virgin, will preach.

With a variety of issues on their lengthy agenda, the bishops will look into prison reform, a report from a Task Force on Media and Morality, implementation of a Vatican directive on first communion before First Communion, the possible institution of formal "ministries" of church music and religious education, and the forthcoming 1974-75 Holy Year proclaimed by Pope Paul.

The bishops will elect four delegates and two alternates to be their representatives at the World Synod of Bishops next year. They will also elect new chairmen for seven NCCB committees and one USCC committee.

During the meeting, the bishops will vote on a controversial liturgical innovation — the reception of Holy Communion in the hand. In 1970, the bishops narrowly failed to approve the practice. Under the upcoming proposal, it would be up to each bishop to decide whether to implement the practice. In addition, the individual communicant would be free to receive in the hand or in the traditional manner.

The proposed policy statement

Priest Takes Ad to Protest Chavez Support

St. Paul, Minn. [RNS] — A conservative Roman Catholic priest paid for a large advertisement in the Catholic Bulletin here to protest support of the United Farm Workers boycott by Catholic bishops of Minnesota.

Referring to Cesar Chavez, Msgr. Arthur H. Durand, pastor of Annunciation Church, Hazelwood, Minn., wrote in the ad:

"Like Daniel of old, I must declare that I will not be party to such disgraceful sellout to a professionally trained agitator and leader of a purely secular labor organization.

"Evidently our bishops have been sold a bill of goods here and are not informed of the Marxist background and involvements of Chavez and his strange outfit. Gus Hall, Communist head of the U.S. Communist party, has strongly backed Chavez and his radical aspirations, and little wonder why.

"The ultimate aim of the Communists in the U.S. is, of course, nothing less than the total control by one union (their own!) of the U.S. food supply.

on the 1974 United Nations Population Year is being prepared by the NCCB Committee on Population and Pro-Life Activities, chaired by Cardinal John Cody of Chicago. The proposal on prison reform is under the guidance of the USCC Committee of Social Development and World Peace, headed by Auxiliary Bishop John Dougherty of Newark.

Archbishop Joseph Bernardin of Cincinnati, former general secretary of the NCCB-USCC, will report for the NCCB Committee for the Spanish-speaking concentrating on the development and maintenance of vocations.

Selection of Bishops Discussed

New York — "Selection of Bishops for the United States Church" was the topic as representatives from the priests councils in the eight dioceses of New York State met with their bishops here last week.

The meeting was one of a continuing series in which bishops and priests meet to discuss topics of special statewide or national significance.

Father James Marvin, president of the Rochester Priests Council, attended the meeting.

A discussion followed after a presentation of the United States Canon Law Society proposed revision of the new Papal Norms for Selection of Bishops in the United States.

Father George Graham, a canon lawyer from Rockville Centre and judge of its Diocesan Court, made the presentation. The importance of collegiality and greater involvement of the people of God in the selection process was emphasized. However, since the meeting was aimed at a sharing of viewpoints and information, no votes were taken, nor were any resolutions passed.

Father Graham outlined the new Papal Norms and the proposed Canon Law Society revision. He noted that the purpose of the Canon Law Society in publishing its proposals was to stimulate dialogue and discussion on the manner in which the leadership of the United States Church is chosen.

Among discussion points raised were the freedom of the bishop and the Holy See to propose candidates; the matter of confidentiality and secrecy; the possible effects of publishing the names of several candidates; the problems of consultation with the people of God in the process.

Father Peter Young of Albany, chairman of the Priests' Councils of New York, was unanimously elected by the Priests' Councils group to represent the priests of the New York Region as priest-observer at the November meeting of the U.S. Bishops in Washington.
