BOCES Program

Hornell — Students in the BOCES new Health Assisting programs are receiving training and practical experience at St. James Hospital working as aides in the Supply, Process and Distribution (SPD) Department and as ward secretaries in the nursing service department.

Mrs. Marjorie Hadley, RN, is the director of the BOCES program, offered this year to 11 high school students. The one-year course gives a senior the opportunity to learn aspects of certain hospital areas where, following graduation, the students may seek gainful employment.
