Joseph Nicola Dies, Feature Service Head

Floral Park, N.Y. [RNS] — A Mass of the Resurrection was offered at Our Lady of Victory Church here (June 4) for Joseph D. Nicola, founder and former director of Catholic Press Features and a strong advocate of "brightness" in the Catholic press.

Mr. Nicola, 38, a native of Dunmore, Pa., died (June 1) at North Shore Hospital, Manhasset, N.Y. after a brief illness. He is survived by his wife, Amelia and his mother, Anna. His by-line appeared in the Courier-Journal many times and his service syndicated Courier writers on occasion.

A resident of Bellerose, N.Y., where he operated Catholic Press Features from his home, Mr. Nicola had begun his enterprise as Catholic Entertainment Features in 1964, sending materials to 125 Catholic newspapers. He had previously worked for the Paulist Fathers magazine and for the Long Island Catholic, weekly of the Rockville Centre diocese.

When his CEF syndication was broadened to include other than entertainment subjects, the name

PIUS X PILGRIMAGE

Van Etten — In preparation for the Holy Year 1975, parishioners of St. Pius X made a pilgrimage June 9 to the monastery church of St. John of the Cross in Waverly. With the temperature at 95 degrees, according to Father Bernard Kuchman, 100 pilgrims climbed the hill and walked the additional mile reciting the rosary. William Sullivan led, carrying a cross. Youth Club members were lecturers at the service.

of the service was changed to Catholic Press Features.

Described by one diocesan newspaper editor as having caused a "quiet revolution in the Catholic press," he was credited with over-hauling many newspapers throughout the country. His major concern was for "health of the Catholic press" and he included his journalism education packages free of charge with his feature service.

Mr. Nicola attended the Jesuit University of Scranton (Pa.) was co-editor of the college paper there and worked nights for the Scranton Tribune. He spent a year as copy boy with the New York Daily News, attended Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism, and in 1962 joined the Long Island Catholic.
