

Abbey Marks 50th Year

A Mass of Thanksgiving climaxed the 50th anniversary observances of the founding of Washington's St. Anselm's Abbey in the same Trinity College Chapel where the founding monks made their final solemn vows as Benedictines in 1927. Ar-chbishop William W. Baum of Washington presided at the Mass, which commemorated the beginning of monastic life at St. Anselm's in September 1924. In its earliest years, St. Anselm's Priory (as it was known until the Vatican raised it to he status of an abbey in 1961) was very closely related to the Benedictine monastery at Downside, Scotland, known as Fort Augustus Abbey. In 1949 St. Anselm's was granted independence from Fort Augustus and became a conventual priory of the English congregation. St. Anselm's is located on a 45-acre site in northeast Washington. On the site is a school for 150 boys in grades seven through 12, the monastery, chapel and other buildings. At top is the monastery chapel, which was completed in 1930 and reflects traditional church architecture. Below is the cloister garden and the modernmonastery wing, built in 1964. (RNS photo)

First Woman Chaplain

Sister Anna Marie Kane, SSJ, is flanked by Bishop Bernard J. Flanagan of Worcester (left and) Father John E. Brooks, SJ, president of Holy Cross College, after her installation as the first woman chaplain in the Jesuit-operated College's 131-year history during a special Mass in St.
Joseph's Chapel. (RNS Photo)

At Home Behind Bars

Sister Rosemary Dowd, R.S.C.J., is at home behind bars, for that is where she works. The nun is director of the women's division of Orleans Parish (county) Prison. Sister Rosemary began working with the male inmates of the prison three years ago as an assistant to Father Hilton River, the prison chaplain. Shortly thereafter, she assumed similar duties in the women's division and in July 1973 was named director (RNS Photo).

Political Advertisement

Political Advertisement Political Advertisement Political Advertiseme

"I Want a Congressman Who Is Willing to Work to Put Money in My Pocket . . ."

Us, too. That's why we're for Conable: Here's a typical specific reason....

Barber Conable worked his tall off for pension reform, knowing that thousands of workers in the 35th Congressional District had untold millions of dollars invested in retirement funds. The House of Representatives passed the bill he helped to write as a senior member of the Ways & Means Committee.

Then he discovered that the Nixon administration had slipped into the Senate version of the bill a new tax provision that slapped the income tax on a current basis on the profit-sharing income a person elected to put into a pension fund. Such income has been tax-deferred for years. The cost to workers in this Congressional District alone — employees of Kodak, Xerox, Lincoln First and many other firms — would be literally millions of dollars a year!

This is not the kind of nonsense a man-Like Barber-Conable will take from anybody! First he pointed out the problem to the members of his own committee; then he button-holed the members of the Conference Committee charged with Ironing out differences between the House and Senate Bills. Finally he went directly to the Secretary of the Treasury and Informed him that there was trouble shead on the Ways & Means Committee If the pressure for the new pension tax wasn't lifted. Result: If was lifted!

Barber's view: "Profit-sharing is the wave of the future because it increases the participation of the American working man and woman in the profit system. Our area leads the nation in profit-sharing. It must be encouraged, not discouraged."

How about that for money in your pockets? Continuing to have a gutsy, influential Congressman appeal to you? Hit that Conable lever on Election:Day!

This is action for you in Mashingtoni

Conable!

CONABLE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE BOX 604 - BATAVIA, NEW YORK JOHN R. RIEDMAN, CHARMAN

93%