Teachers Study Learning Problems

The Rochester Association of Catholic School Administrators sponsored a Learning Disabilities Workshop for the parochial school teachers and administrators of Monroe County at Nazareth College Nov. 20 and Dec. 4.

Teachers were given guidelines and hints to enable them to cope with this problem. Special study guides, workbooks equipped with answers, perceptual games and methods of special testing were covered. Following the lectures, the audience broke into smaller groups for question and answer purposes.

Participants in the workshop will write evaluations of the program, the first of this type here.

The workshop was directed by Thomas Walsh, a Nazareth professor of graduate studies in learning disabilities. He was assisted by Philip McInnis and Deann McVean of the same faculty.

The principal purpose of the workshop was to acquaint teachers with methods of instructing the emotionally disturbed or perceptually inadequate child within a regular classroom. Walsh and his colleagues stressed their view that the child with a learning problem should be taught in the regular classroom.

Business In The Diocese

Richard C. Marx, controller of St. Mary's Hospital, has been named to the Board of Directors of Westside Health Services.

Marx has been employed at St. Mary's since August of 1971. Before that he was a manager in the Rochester office of Price Waterhouse & Co.

A graduate of Holy Cross College and the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, he lives with his wife and four children at 12 Birling Gap, Fairport.

CORRECTION

New York — Msgr. John Barry, president of the Senate of Priests of the New York Archdiocese, has confirmed that Assembly members at the recent meeting passed by one vote a resolution to consider and study optional celibacy for clergy.

The original report of the meeting carried by Religious News Service and presented in the Courier-Journal Dec. 11 stated that the resolution had been defeated by one vote, 161 to 162. The initial report was erroneous; the resolution was passed by one vote.

Submitted by the Yorkville Catholic Clergy Conference, the resolution asked "that the Senate recommend an openness to consideration and study of optional celibacy as the possible future element in the Church."

RECYCLING

India — A total of $100,000 was raised by recycling empty CARE cooking oil tins and flour bags. The money is being used to help support CARE food and nutrition education projects in India, where the agency feeds almost 11 million people daily.

CYO Slide Show Now Available

The Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) has recently completed work on a slide-tape presentation telling the story of CYO: What CYO Does, Who CYO Serves.

The slide-tape show illustrates a new program called Youth Development; and how the program serves more needs of youth on a deeper level.

The presentation attempts to describe each of the group's youth services.

Groups desiring more information on the show should call Thomas Cotterill, executive director, at 454-2030. The presentation is available at no charge.

The idea for the presentation rose when the CYO changed direction about 18 months ago and the traditional recreational programs ceased.
