

When Bishops

Cardinal Terence Cooke delights crowd at the Cathedral with relaxed talk praising the warmth of his welcome in Rochester as well as the work of diocesan and Cathedral personnel.

Seated at the altar for the Tuesday evening liturgy in the Cathedral are, left to right, Bishop Edward D. Head of Buffalo, Bishop Francis J. Mugavero of Brooklyn, Archbishop John J. Maguire of New York, Bishop Joseph L. Hogan of Rochester, Bishop David F. Cunningham of Syracuse, Bishop Stanislaus J. Brzana of Ogdensburg and Bishop Edwin B. Broderick of Albany.

During an attentive moment in a small group discussion are Cardinal Terence Cooke, Archdiocese of New York; Mrs. Marie Stengel, expert in the education of the handicapped, Diocese of Buffalo; Dr. Joseph Kelly, assistant to the rector of St. Bernard's Seminary, Diocese of Rochester; Father Clyde Lewis, diocesan director of religious education, Diocese of Ogdensburg; Father Gerard Tierney, director of the office of religious education; Diocese of Albany.

Father Alfred McBride makes point at opening

Father James Marvin of Rochester, president of the State Priests Council and Bishop David Cunningham of Syracuse listen intently.

The tone was not solemn, but the discuss