What to you look forward to most when you turn 18 years of age?

BISHOP KEARNEY

Guy Bellota, junior

The right to have my say in politics by way of voting. The right to be able to work longer hours in order to receive better pay, and to be able to go out places without being hassled about proof of age.

Steve Mongeau, junior, student union

"I'm looking forward to greater freedom to make my own decisions about education, and what I want to do with the rest of my life. Also, I look forward to using my voting privilege."

Debbie Cordaro, junior

"I look forward to voting. They have a lot of responsibility to live up to the 18-year-old image: like voting and signing contracts. Everyone who turns 18 is not mature. Just because the State says you are an adult at 18 doesn't mean you are one. Some people are adults at 14, others perhaps not until 30."

Tosh Farrell, senior, hockey

"I look forward to voting. Also, to getting my legal proof of age so when I go out I'm not hassled about my age. When I turn 18 I'll be on my way to college, and being 18 will make things easier. Turning 18 doesn't necessarily mean you're mature. It carries a lot of responsibilities today, and it's an individual thing how certain 18 year olds handle these responsibilities."

Gary Smith, junior

"I can make my own decisions by myself, like leave home if I want to, or take out a loan, or get a better job"

Mary Jo Vaiana, senior, STP

"Legalizing yourself. When you are under 18 you just can't go where you want. At 18 you can go where you please. If I turned 18 tomorrow the first thing I'd do is get my police identification card I look forward to using my voting privileges."

Joe Chimera, junior, track

"I look forward to my voting rights. Just because New York State says you are an adult at 18 — it doesn't mean we are adults, but the earlier we are able to use our adult responsibilities the better. Being 18 opens up a lot of opportunities for the young adults"

Liz Pannone, senior, STP

"The first thing I'd do if I were to turn 18 tomorrow is get my police identification card. At 18 you gain freedom and independence. Not that I'm restricted now, but at 18 the state legally considers me as being adult with the privileges of an adulthood such as signing my own contracts (marriage, loans), and being able to vote."
