Chestertonians to Mark GKC's 101st Birthday

The first meeting of the Chesterton Society in this area will take place at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 29 at the Nazareth College Library. It will be preceded by a dinner at 6:15 at The Depot restaurant in Pittsford. Anyone interested in Gilbert, Keith Chesterton and his writings will be welcome.

Chesterton Society meetings are planned from Boston to San Diego from June through August. The Rochester meeting, on GKC's 101st birthday, will be the first in the hemisphere, according to Robert Knille, local representative. Charles Higgins, director of learning resources at Nazareth College, will speak on the College's Chesterton collection. Father Joseph Quinn, associate editor of the Chesterton Review and professor of English at the University of Windsor, will describe what is involved in planning and publishing the Review.

Trustee

Mrs. Marie Curran Wilson, a parishioner at St. Thomas More Church has been named a trustee at the University of Rochester. She is a member of the University's Memorial Art Gallery and a member of the Trustees Visiting Committee to the university medical center. She is also a board member of the Crippled Children's Society of Monroe County and of the Rochester unit of Birthright.

The Chesterton Society, formed last year at Spode House in England, has branches not only in England, Canada, and the United States but also in France, Australia, Poland, and Japan, Knille reported. Vice-presidents include Dorothy Collins, GKC's last secretary and his literary executrix; John Sullivan, the Chesterton bibliographer and editor; Maurice Reckitt, the Anglican social critic and author, who was an associate of both Chesterton and T.S. Eliot; Cardinal Flahiff, the Archbishop of Winnipeg, and Justice Cartwright, former Chief Justice of the Canadian Supreme Court.

G. K. Chesterton (1874-1936) was a popular writer of essays, novels, biographies, literary criticism, short stories, plays, and poems. Many Catholics consider him a great apologist for the Church, with his optimistic affirmation of orthodox Christian truths.

Membership in the Chesterton Society, which includes the semi-annual Review, is $3.25 per year, by check payable to "The Chesterton Society" and sent to the Rev. Ian Boyd, Editor, The Chesterton Review, St. Thomas More College, 1437 College Drive, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada.

Anyone who would like to attend the local meeting or dinner should contact Knille at 102 Lynnwood Drive, Rochester 14618.

Career Day Held at OLPH

Junior high schoolers at Our Lady of Perpetual Help were presented with a Career Day recently, during which they learned about a variety of professions and vocations.

The pupils were allowed to attend whichever sessions they wished from among ten presentations.

According to Sister Anne Marvin and Howard Siebert, organizers of the event, the students' curiosity about starting pay, benefits, working conditions and retirement prompted many questions and attested to their interest in the program.

Among the speakers at the day were Peter Ciavarri, a chemist; Mrs. Pat Scherner, a registered nurse; Julie Candela, a dental hygienist; David Faraone and Kevin Mannix, seminarians; John Robertson, an airline representative; Earl Albertson, a physical education director; Norbert Schmidlin, a mechanic; Officer Anthony Cutrano of the Rochester Police Dept.; Sgt. Kenneth Campbell, a New York State Trooper; and Lieut. William McElligott of the Rochester Fire Dept.

Schools Show Increase In New Voter Sign-up

The recent registration of 1,136 eligible students in seven Catholic high schools in the county represented more than 21 per cent of a total of 5,248 new voters signed up in the recent four-week outreach program of the County Board of Elections.

The number of 18-year-olds added to voter rolls was about 16 per cent higher than those registered in the same schools in 1974. The overall increase in 36 schools participating was 14 per cent.

Highest among the Catholic schools was Cardinal Mooney with 250, followed closely by Bishop Kearney with 243. Other totals were: Nazareth, 163; Mercy, 141; Aquinas, 137; McQuaid, 126; and St. Agnes, 76.
