When the Diocesan Pastoral Council installation Mass was held at the athletic center at St. John Fisher College it was the final event on the last day — the third day — of the convocation. Bishop Joseph L. Hogan used the circumstance to remind all of another third day — Easter as the final of the three days beginning on Good Friday.

Reminding all that without that third day long ago, we wouldn't be here today, he also referred to this third day as a time-driving away “all doubts and fears.”
