

Mass League Offers Rosary Book

Rochester's Daily Mass League has recently published a book of meditations on the Rosary by Father Jude Mead, CP.

The booklet, which contains prayers and historical essays on the devotion as well as meditations for each decade, is basically a reprint of a publication by the Passionist Radio-TV Apostolate.

The booklet, with the imprimatur of Auxiliary Bishop John E. McCafferty, is being promoted by the league because "to be fully involved in a Christian life, we need devotions for our moments with Jesus and His Holy Mother between Eucharists," according to Angelo L. DiNieri, president of the group.

"This is why we have expanded our activities in this direction. And the result has been more members — and we hope greater participation in daily Mass," he said.

This is not the first time DiNieri has gone into publishing. Three years ago he had printed cards bearing a Prayer to the Holy Spirit, which he distributed to an international charismatic conference at Notre Dame. Since that time the 78-year-old league president has been deluged with requests for the card from all over the world.

Other programs of the league include production of a Sunday Mass for Shut-Ins (broadcast in Rochester over WHEC Channel 10), and luncheons following Mass on First Friday.

Robert Novack, president of Consortium Press, explains a step in preparing a book to be printed to Angelo L. DiNieri, president of the Daily Mass League.
