

People in Need as Comes the couple is struggling to pay bills and is in need of financial help.

66. Mr. and Mrs. C. have three retarded boys. The family is trying to purchase a second-hand trailer. Mr. C. works but his salary is insufficient for his family. To supplement their diet they raise chickens and ducks. Any help would be greatly appreciated.

67. Mr. F. is unemployed and raising seven children and has a heart condition. He's willing to do the work, but lacks the funds to renovate his old house.

68. Mrs. I. has five children living at home. The father does not live at home and does not support the family. Even though she works, Mrs. I. has been hard-hit by the rising cost of living, and finds it difficult to support her family.

69. Mrs. K. lives alone in poor housing conditions. She is in very poor health and life is most difficult.

70. Mr. and Mrs. W. live in an upstairs apartment. Poor health has drained their finances and they find it difficult to meet a minimal living condition.

71. Mr. and Mrs. A. who have four children are struggling to pay medical and hospital bills as well as payments on their home on Mr. A.'s salary which is less than $400 a month. Mr. A. is limited in the work he can do due to a back condition since birth. An operation is imperative but they cannot afford it. Mrs. A. has tried unsuccessfully to get a part-time job in the evening when her husband can care for the children. They desperately need financial help.

72. Mrs. S. who is separated from her husband has five boys. She is on Welfare but, presently, they have no furniture and are sleeping on the floor. They could use any help possible.

73. Mr. and Mrs. S. have two children, a girl age 6 and a boy age 8. Mr. S. is unemployed. They live on a farm and raise chickens which gives them eggs to supplement their diet. They can use any help possible. They are on Welfare.

74. Mr. and Mrs. McC. have six children. They live on a farm but Mr. McC. is disabled and cannot work. They are on Welfare but could use any help offered since their home was recently partially destroyed by fire.

75. Mr. J. has four children of grammar school age. He is separated from his wife; his niece helps to care for his children. He works whenever possible. Any help would be appreciated.
