Big Day for Juniors

St. Agnes High School juniors prepare to receive their class rings at a special ceremony on Wednesday, Jan. 21. From left are: Jeanette OuYang, class vice president; Katie Krenzer, president; Sister Anne Guerin, principal; Mary Marchand, secretary; Bridget Burch, treasurer. Below, freshmen "little sisters" Lisa Samela, Ann Tuohey, Carol Rinehart and Terry Carello are ready to present their "big sisters" with flowers. Sisters Joanne Hasselwander, Kate Neubeck, and Sheila Briody furnished the music for the liturgy which was an important part of the program.

McQuaid, Marshall

A Swimming Rerun

By JOHN DOSER

It's a rerun between McQuaid and Marshall for the City-Catholic League swimming championship again this year.

Last year the Knights and the Jurists went right down to the league's last meet and with McQuaid beating Marshall to win the C-C title.

It looks like the same old program again this year. Coach John Tobin's McQuaid Knights won their first eight C-C meets and Coach John Hink's Marshall Jurists won their first seven; the two unbeaten teams meet Thursday, Feb. 5, at the YWCA (McQuaid's home pool) in another showdown which is expected to decide the C-C title.

It may not be an easy meet for McQuaid to win, but then Tobin is equally cautious in every meet. "We both have comparable swimmers and times," he says. "It's going to be the kids themselves to decide this one," he says.

Tobin believes both teams are stronger than they were a year ago, but McQuaid might not have been had junior Jeff LiButti, one of the Knights' outstanding swimmers, transferred to Pittsford Sutherland in mid-season.

"Anytime someone is getting very good, especially on a private school team, he can look around and see facilities in the county that are very good and one would expect that the person would investigate that.

"Jeff did that, and he made a decision. He decided to stay with us and we're happy to have him," Tobin explains.

McQuaid's former "freshman flash," Terry Holley, is now a senior. "After being one of the backbones of the team for a couple of years, and being in the background, he now has the second best time in our league in the butterfly, the best time in the 50 free, and the third best time in the 100 free. He's also on the freestyle relay which has the best time now," Tobin says.

Ned Nicosia has the best C-C time in the breaststroke and against Aquinas beat the Little Irish's Joe Thompson who had the best time a year ago.

LiButti has the fastest 100 free time in the league and has also broken the C-C record in both the 200 and 500 this year. He also came within a tenth of a second of breaking the 100 freestyle record when McQuaid swam at Jefferson two weeks ago.

McQuaid has another amazing freshman, Tobin says, in Marty Mahoney. "He's an age group swimmer previously, he's done a 1:06 backstroke and the freshman record at McQuaid is 1:05, the league record is 1:00. He's doing very well and he's got the second best time reported in the league this year," Tobin says.

Mahoney is also on the Knights' medley relay team which has the best time in the league.

Neil Brophy, another freshman, has the second best league time in the 500; Tobin figures he's fortunate to have the two top distance swimmers in the league because they can work together (Brophy and Libutti), and the top two breaststrokers (Nicosia and Bill Skuse) and the top two short distance swimmers (LiButti and Holley).

Tobin is accustomed to being asked what he can do for an encore. As of this writing McQuaid owned a 49-dual meet win streak overall, and 44 in the C-C league. (Yesterday the Knights sought 50 straight in a game with East.)

He says he's going to keep on doing the same thing. "Keep knocking on wood and hoping things come out the best for us."

Holley and Ed Schifino are the Knights' team captains, with a pilot like Tobin steering the ship, some members of the team have never known the captain to veer off course. It's always been straight ahead to victory.
