

Who in your opinion was the most outstanding President in our nation's history?

CARDINAL MOONEY

Susan Eddy, junior, band
"I think Andrew Jackson because he didn't always do what was best for the country but he did what he thought was best. He was a forceful man. He was the first people's president, not an aristocrat. They called him 'the nation's hero' and 'the people's friend'."

Terry Houck, junior, baseball
"To me it seems it would be James K. Polk because before he came into office he set four major goals and he worked to achieve them and did accomplish them. Annexed Texas and lowered the tariff and re-established the banking system."

Kathy Louk, junior, homeroom representative
"I think the greatest president was Harry S. Truman. First of all, he instituted the Marshall Plan to give aid to European countries after World War II. Although a lot of people disagreed with him, he went ahead and did what he thought was best for the country and the people. In the long run what he did proved to be the best for the country."

Richard Marcucci, junior, class president
"I think Abraham Lincoln was because our country was split and he worked to bring it back together. He gave his famous Gettysburg Address through which he tried to bring the country back as a whole. He's one of the best presidents because he was a leader and was able to handle his Congress with his strong personality."

Mary Ellen Leach, sophomore
"Abraham Lincoln. He tried to preserve the Union. He was a real good leader. People liked him because of his personality. He had a good idea for freeing the slaves and he was sincere about it. He was a strong leader and if he had lived would have held the country together."

Jim Gendron, junior, track
"Franklin D. Roosevelt, because he brought the country out of the depression and got us through World War II. He was a great leader of men and was elected four times to the office."

Mike Agostinelli, sophomore, wrestling
"Teddy Roosevelt. I feel he was the bravest and smartest of all the presidents. I look up to him because of his 'Rough Riders' and the part he played in the Spanish-American War. A lot of people looked up to him because of his strong leadership. I feel he spoke for the people at all times."

Angela Cieri, senior, homeroom representative
"John F. Kennedy. I've always looked up to him because he was an honest person with a good personality who cared about the people. He prevented the Cuban Missile Crisis from becoming a major catastrophe. He was for equality between the races. He was the first Catholic president and if he hadn't been assassinated he would have gone on to accomplish many things."

Back in 1963, Clare Borton as a toddler visited the new Bishop Kearney High School and was enthralled with the portrait of Bishop James E. Kearney. Throughout the intervening years she never wavered in her choice of high school, and now is an active BK freshman, looking forward to the next three school years.

Same Place, Same Girl . . . But Different Times

By JOAN M. SMITH

Thirteen years have elapsed since the photo on the left was taken at Bishop Kearney High School's first open house in the spring of 1963.

The school, named in honor of Bishop James E. Kearney, first opened its doors as a co-educational facility in September 1962.

The girl, Clare Borton, who was then a one-year-old toddler, is now a young lady and a freshman at BK.

Clare was a willing subject for the updated photo although she laughingly declined to match the earlier picture which showed her with a finger in her mouth.

She shook her head when asked if she remembered the eventful picture-taking, but did recall that the intervening years "went real fast."

BK was always Clare's choice of high schools and she isn't the only Borton link with the school. Her two older sisters, Mary, a senior, and Kathy, a junior, also attend the school — and there are more on the way. Clare's younger sister Celeste and young brother Chris, who both are attending Holy Trinity School in Webster, will probably follow in the family tradition.

Though Clare has been a student at BK for only a few months, she has been an active one. Besides playing saxophone in the Marching Kings Band she is auditioning for a dance part in the school play, "Jesus-Christ, Super Star."

Clare doesn't limit her energies to school activities. She is a member of the Holy Trinity folk singing group as well as a cheerleader for the parish's junior varsity.

She has been a dance student for 10 years and continues her lessons in tap and ballet.

The step from elementary to high school was a big one for Clare because the making of new friends along with the atmosphere of discipline and school rules all required adjustment.

How does Clare view her future Kearney years? "The first half of my freshman year has really gone fast so, I expect my four years to go by just as fast," and she confidently added, "I know they'll be enjoyable ones."

Athlete Awards Program Planned for Greece

The first annual Greece Athlete of the Year Program will be introduced by Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. in conjunction with the Mother of Sorrows Men's Club in May.

The purpose is to select the best male and female high school athletes of the year. All high school students residing in the Town of Greece and participating in a high school varsity sport will be eligible. Each public and private high school located in Greece, Charlotte High School, Hilton High School, and Spencerport, may nominate up to five male and five female athletes; other schools, such as Aquinas and Nazareth, with eligible students will be allowed to select one nominee for each 80 Greece residents attending the school for both male and female athlete of the year.

A panel of judges consisting of school athletic directors, Greece sports writers, and other sports media representatives will select from those nominated the five male and five female finalists for the Greece Athlete of the Year. These 10 finalists will be announced and be guests of honor at the Greece Athlete of the Year Banquet, sponsored by Manufacturers Hanover and the Mother of Sorrows Men's Club at Mother of Sorrows Church Hall May 20.

All finalists will receive certificates and trophies and the male and female Athlete of the Year will receive a $750 scholarship. Each school will also receive a rotating trophy won by the top male and female athlete.
