Bridal showers forecast

Looking for an unusual theme for a bridal shower? Think about a garden shower, whether or not the future bride will really have a garden out of doors. Clusters of potted plants in an apartment need lots of TLC and will bring many hours of delight.

Guests can bring seeds, flowering bulbs, unusual plants, handsome pots, plant stands, planting tools, books on growing greens and flower arranging.

Another unusual idea would be a wine shower with an assortment of wines, wine glasses, graceful carafes, pitchers and even cheese boards.

Year Sees New Ideas In Formals

Simplicity of style sets the pace for men's formalwear this year. One button tuxedo coats with wide lapels are being shown by the major manufacturers for Spring-Summer 1976. This look is a distinctive change from the 3-button, long-styled Prince Edward and Adventurer models that have played an important role in dressing the groom and his attendants over the past few years.

After Six, the world's largest maker of formal attire, is featuring a coordinated ensemble—the Newport II (a simple one-button regular length style) and the Charleston (for the groom—a contemporary version of traditional full dress tails). These new styles are available in matching colors and fabrics. This enables the groom to distinguish himself from the other male members of the wedding party, while at the same time maintain continuity of color and style for the group.

In attending a 1976 wedding, you can look for the groom in the tail coat (the Charleston) and best man, ushers, fathers and ringbearer in a regular length coat of the same color and fabric as the groom.

Greg Mazurowski, Sales Manager for the 3 Tuxedo Junction stores in the Rochester area tells us about "an all new color being introduced in men's formalwear—candlelight." He said, "over the past number of years, color has become a predominant factor in choosing tuxedos. The candlelight and bone shades offer a neutral look that will coordinate well with either a white or ivory bridal gown." Candlelight, ice blue, and camel are also new color ideas for men's formal attire this year.

Fabrics are lightweight, textured polyesters for the most part. You can be sure that comfort will be important on that warm spring or summer day as you walk down the aisle. We find flocked velvet in contrasting shades accenting the lapels and top collar of many of the contemporary fashions.

And what about the "all white Gatsby concept of 1975?"—Tuxedo Junction's specialists say it's expected to be in great demand again this year. The Spring edition of Brides Magazine will carry full page ads promoting the Gatsby look again—all white, all blue, all colors.

Men's tuxedos were generally basic black and white, year after year, up until seven or eight years ago. The styles seldom varied. Today it's another story, with the formalwear industry. The only certain factors from season to season are changes and new ideas.

MIDDLE EAST CUSTOM

Why do we throw shoes after the bride? Probably it dates from the ancient Middle East, where men would exchange their sandals to symbolize the exchange of property. So shoes signify transfer of authority from the bride's father to her husband.
