650 in Penn Yan Regaled By Sports Celebrities

Penn Yan — St. Michael's School raised more than $6,500 at the 5th annual Sports Night Banquet. More than 650 people enjoyed the dinner Feb. 12.

Speaking were many sports celebrities including Tom Shopay, Baltimore Orioles; Elliott Maddox and Roy White, New York Yankees; Jon Matlack, New York Mets; Carmen Basilio, former World Champion Boxer; Rick Kowalski, Hobart College; Joe DeLamielleure and Walf Patulski, Buffalo Bills. Jerry Flynn was master of ceremonies.

Two local athletes, Chris Crissy and Steve Horigan, were honored for their athletic achievements by the sports writers in the area.

The special message that each speaker, in his own way, imparted to the guests is that any worthwhile achievement, including those on the world of sports, is the result of hard work, determination and effort. The advice to parents of would-be athletes was "don't push but rather encourage the playing of the game for enjoyment, fellowship and sportsmanship," and as St. Paul said "to run the good race."

Father Thomas McVeigh, pastor, stated that the love and devotion of the people for their Church was evidenced at Sports Night. For many months the committee had been working to find sponsors, hire up speakers and make preparations necessary for the dinner. Father Paul J. Gibbons, associate pastor, and Father Paul Ryan both gave tribute to all the workers, the advertisers, donors and all the media, especially radio station WFLR, the local newspaper and the Courier-Journal.
