

CYO Cheerleaders To Compete

Sacred Heart Varsity cheerleaders were hard at work the past few weeks practicing for the upcoming CYO Diocesan Cheerleading Tournament to be held Saturday, March 20, at RIT Coach (and former cheerleader herself) Carol Coletti has her work cut out for her, but she thinks the girls are great, and should place in the competition. Left to right: Kathy Geisler, Kelly Walton, Sara O'Dwyer, Darlene Cruppi, Barbara Figaro, and Patty Mahaney. Absent: Julie Angelone.

Regional Highlights

SOUTHWEST

Henry Maher, regional director of human development, has started an ad hoc committee including himself, Ramon Datz, Jackie Farrell, Bernje Kiel, and Sandy and Dick Bonanno. They each have been assigned to specific parishes from which they will send suggestions and ideas to Father Emmett J. Halloran, regional coordinator.

Timothy McCowan, coordinator of political affairs in the Human Development Office, gave a report at the March 2 meeting, on the voter registration drive. He stated that there will be a letter from Bishop Hogan, through the Courier-Journal and parish bulletins, announcing the program.

Dr. Evilio Perez addressed the assembly regarding the Peace and Justice proposal currently being considered by the consultive bodies, advising that in general, there is an endorsement of the concept. After a question and answer period the region formally endorsed the proposal.

NORTHEAST

The third assembly meeting of the Northeast Region will be held at Mercy High School, instead of St. James, as previously announced. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. on April 7.

Father Laurence Tracy, of Mt. Carmel parish, and Msgr. George Cocuzzi, vicar of urban ministry, addressed the regional executive committee on the financial problems of Mt. Carmel. Father Tracy stated that the parish may run out of money by June. The primary reason for this is the upkeep of buildings that are not being used. Mt. Carmel's ministerial team is now trying to find an individual, familiar with commercial real estate, to volunteer services for sale of this property. Volunteer should contact Ron Keller c/o St. Ambrose Church, 25 Empire Blvd, 14609 or Father Tracy, 53 Ontario St., 14605. Both Father Tracy and Msgr. Cocuzzi feel that involvement of the entire region is vital for the success of urban ministerial reorganization.

The region will elect two representatives to the Diocesan Pastoral Council for two-year terms, replacing Alan Monahan and Ed Gartland, who have indicated that they will not seek re-election. The regional election committee Jean Flanagan, Larry Michael, and Connie Scheg, will be forwarding letters to all pastors and Parish Council presidents in the region, requesting nominees.

convening in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, August 1st to 8th 1976 announces the issuance of...
The 41st International Eucharistic Congress Medallion

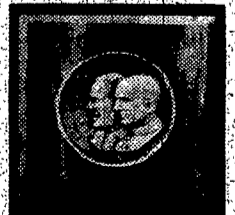

This will be the only MEDALLION designated an officially recognized commemorative of the 41st International Eucharistic Congress.

This official symbol appears on each Medallion indicating that it is an officially recognized memento of this great occasion.

Medallion on stand P101 $6.95

Medallion on wall plaque P102 $9.50

Measuring three inches in diameter, the Medallion is meticulously minted with a soft pewter finish. A finely detailed high relief sculpture portrays Pope John XXIII and Pope Paul VI on the medallion's face with the Eucharistic Prayer on the reverse side.
