

Farewell, Holy Cross

Photos by Ben Susso

Eighth graders from Holy Cross in Rochester celebrated their graduation by visiting Olympic Park. Clockwise, from 12: Sister Mary Eugene poses with some "Moon Rocket" enthusiasts; Father Robert Fennessy and two of the Sisters watch the "Paratrooper." John Fitzgerald clowns around with the clowns; Dave Gibaud doesn't mind sharing his popcorn with Gina Amorese; Nancy Spoto and Karen Kuhn wave to us from the "Skyride."

COURIER-CALENDAR

Clyde-Savannah Parish Picnic — Sunday, July 25, Black Brook Park on old Route 31—beginning with Mass at 2:30 p.m., for parishioners of St. John's and St. Patrick's; each family to bring dish to pass; own table service and beverages; Senior citizens needing transportation should be at either church by 2 p.m. Mrs. Louis DiSanto in charge.

St. Morris Bicentennial — Bridal Fashions to Remember, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 27, St. John's Episcopal Church, State St. Reception afterward.

St. Charles Bonomeo Divorced Catholics Group — Meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, July 25, in school hall, Dewey Avenue at Maiden Lane; speaker, Dennis Boike.

Southwest Golden Age Group — Entertainment by professional musicians, plus dessert buffet, 1:30 p.m. Friday, July 23, at 34 Monica St.

Opera Under the Stars — Richard Allen, Nadine Pelle in Frank Loesser musical, The Most Happy Fella, at 8:40 tonight, Friday and Saturday, Highland Park Bowl; rain dates, July 22 and 25. Final production of season. Free.

Bristol Valley Playhouse — On Seman Road, four miles north of Naples, Agatha Christie thriller, The Unexpected Guest, 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, July 23-24; 3:15 p.m. Sunday, July 25. Opening next weekend, Arthur Miller's The Price. Reservations recommended. 716/374-6318.

Rochester Community Players — West Side Story, starring Judy Ranaletta, Michael Baranowski, 8 p.m. tomorrow through Sunday, July 22-25, Xerox Square Auditorium.

Classic Film Series — Six Charlie Chaplin shorts, dated 1914, at Rochester Museum Auditorium, 657 East Ave., tomorrow, 2 and 8 p.m. Next Thursday, July 29: Room Service, 1936. Mark Brothers force.

Casawadi Park — Mitzel Collins and Bushnell's Bath Delegation, 12:30 p.m. today, downtown Rochester. Next Wednesday, July 28: Crystal Silence. Free. (At Hochstein School, 50 N. Plymouth, if rainy.)

Greece Performing Arts Society — On stage in Forum Room, Greece, Athens High School, 300 Long Pond Road, with three musicals, nightly except Sundays and Mondays, through Aug. 14. This week, and next, Where's Charley? alternates with I Do! I Do! in August, with The Fantastics tonight, I Do! tomorrow, Charley, 8 p.m. curtain. Reservations: 663-4695 or 621-1000, ext. 17.

U of R Summer Theatre — Blood Wedding, by Federico Garcia Lorca, July 21-24, 28-31, at 612 Wilson Blvd., 8:30 p.m. curtain. Reservations: 275-4066.

Oratorio Reading Choir — Gabriel Faure's Requiem, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 28. Final session.

Brockport Bicentennial Orchestra — Under Ascher Temkin, tonight at 8, Jewish Community Center, 1200 Edgewood, 7 p.m. tomorrow, July 22, outdoors at Oak Orchard School, Medina; 7 p.m. Friday, July 23, Fancher Campus, Route 31, 14 miles west of Brockport; week of July 26, five concerts in Letchworth State Park; times and sites from park administration office. All free.

Eastman Student Organ Recitals — At Bethany Presbyterian Church, 3000 Dewey Ave., Cathy Stratman, 8 p.m. Friday, July 23, at Twelve Corners Presbyterian Church, 1200 S. Winson, Robert Knight, 8 p.m. Sunday, July 25. Free.

Eastman Summer Chamber Series — John Celentano's Baroque Sonata playing four of Bach's Brandenburg Concertos, 8 p.m. Monday, July 26, Hubbell Auditorium, Hutchinson Hall, U of R campus and 8 p.m. Wednesday, July 28, Asbury First Methodist Church, 1050 East Ave. Free.

Stromberg Playhouse — Cosmic Mysteries: Lasertium. For showtimes and reservations: 244-6060, Ext. 56.

Rochester Museum — Images from the Longhouse, an exhibit of paintings by the late Ernest Smith, Elmhurst Auditorium through Oct. 17. Gifts from the Creator, multi-media show featuring Smith's paintings. Polyhedron Theatre, through Oct. 17.

Arts Group — Annual exhibition by area artists at Memorial Art Gallery, Friday, July 23 through Aug. 22; public reception 2-4 p.m. Sunday, July 25. Concurrently, Kent Bicentennial Portfolio of original prints by 12 contemporary Americans.

Kids' Carnival Strikes Blow at Dystrophy

Michael Zappia, 13, called the Courier-Journal last week to report, "We made $180 yesterday for muscular dystrophy."

"Me and these other kids," he said, "We had a carnival."

Like Michael, these other kids live in the Kingsbury drive area of Greece. They range from 12 to 16, the majority being in the lower age brackets. They don't know anyone afflicted with muscular dystrophy, "It's just something we like to do — raise money to help."

Last year, they made $100; the year before, $25, so, clearly, experience counts.

"This year," Michael explained the increased profit, "We left notices in doors and put lots of signs up, at church and places. We started to plan a month ago, and had a meeting about every day. Everybody chipped in about $1.50 and we got some more from neighbors. The neighbors donated lots of money."

The spending began at a carnival supply house. Neighborhood stores and business men provided a pound of hot dogs here, slices of pop there, and a quantity of gadgets to use as prizes. Hot dogs off an outdoor grill were sold for 35 cents apiece. One five-cent ticket bought a session with a fortune teller, or a try at two of the five games. "We had a wishing well and penny pitch, too."

The carnival operators included Linda and Jenny Ray, Lynn and Jerry Rupp, Faith Bock, Theresa Barbieri and Angela Fazio. The contributors: Tops and Convenient food markets, Carvell, Faris Pharmacy, Pierrepont Visual Graphics, Leo J. Roth, Arthur Gaglio and Nancy Blaese — "she knows how to make real good cakes."

Local Woman Gains National Office

Ms. Lorraine Cappelino of Rochester has been elected corresponding secretary of the St. Joans International Alliance, U.S. Section. The Catholic women's organization seeks equal rights for women in all fields, but especially in the Church.

Ms. Cappelino is a member of the Diocesan Pastoral Council, appointed by Bishop Joseph L. Higgins.