Enrollment Growth Realized by Two Schools

Penn Yan-Ithaca — When the electric impulses set the bells ringing, signaling the start of the 1976-77 school year, students in the communities of Ithaca and Penn Yan enrolled in Immaculate Conception and St. Michael's will be greeted by the Sisters of St. Joseph and the lay teachers. Endeavoring to educate the "whole person", both academically and religiously, instilling lasting values, strengthening their Catholic faith, preparing them for their futures, the classes will be both interesting and informative. Innovations, personal involvement, personal commitments, modern methods, all are evident in the year's activities.

St. Michael's of Penn Yan expects to serve 127 pupils in grades K-6. Former Principal Sister Brian Madigan said, "In 1970 when many parochial schools were faced with a financial crisis, St. Michael's closed its Junior High and added Kindergarten classes. The enrollment at that time was 89 and amazingly has continued to rise. St. Michael's is alive and growing. There is still time and space for additional students this year." Sister Madigan observed that graduates from the school are reputed to do outstanding work at the academy and many successfully go on to a higher education.

The Immaculate Conception school in Ithaca anticipates an enrollment of approximately 243 pupils in grades K-8. Students from Immaculate Conception have a strong sense of loyalty and devotion to their alma mater. An active alumni association aids the system.

Sister Raymond Mary, principal, works closely with the ministerial staff from the parish church in Ithaca.

Many teachers of Religious Education in the surrounding areas take advantage of the up-to-date audio-visual aids that the school possesses. They look to the school's staff for enrichment ideas for their own released time classes. The physical building, attractive and conveniently located, is utilized by the parish for many events and activities, classes for young people and adults.

Graduates of Immaculate Conception School frequently excel in high school and they go on to institutions of higher learning, truly a living testimony to the love and devotion to the foundations they received in their formative years.

Waterloo — A recently initiated endowment fund heads the list of hopes for the future independence of St. Mary's School in Waterloo. The eventual goal is $250,000 to be subscribed in bequests of $1,000. This is the latest plan initiated by Father Albert Shamon, pastor, to make the school financially independent.

St. Mary's graduated its first eighth grade class since 1973, in June and shows an enrollment this fall of approximately 240 students in preschool through grade eight. This is an increase of 4 per cent over last year's enrollment.
