

Family Education at St. Christopher

A program with a new approach to religious education soon will begin at St. Christopher's Church in North Chili. Based on the idea of the "family unit being the prime educator," the sessions will be attended by 71 families, who will meet for two hours, once a month. Adults and children meet separately during the first hour, absorbing the same material at their own levels. The second hour brings the family together to discuss the topic, and the session is culminated by Mass or prayer service. Slide-tape presentations are used extensively. The executive committee planning the program includes, above: Mary Lu Coffey, Mary Hawken, Sister Anita Kentz, Marilyn McNamara, and Rosemary Mandery. In the background is a recent addition to St. Christopher's plant consisting of meeting rooms, a child-care center, and other facilities available to the parishioners.

Seminary Gets Grant

St. Bernard's Seminary has been awarded an administrative staff development grant by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada, according to Jesse H. Ziegler, executive director of the association. Father Joseph P. Brennan, rector, said, "We are indeed grateful to ATS for this generous grant and these monies will be of great assistance to us at St. Bernard's."

This grant was one of 37 made by the association ranging from $188 to $5,500 for projects to improve skills in seminary administration/management of individuals and administrative teams.

Villa Names New Board

A new Board of Directors has been appointed for St. Joseph's Villa, the residential child care and treatment facility located on Dewey Avenue. Executive director, Sister Ann Vincent, SSJ, announced that the Board of Directors has approved a new set of by-laws enabling the Board to expand its membership and become an active governing body assisting in the administration of St. Joseph's Villa.

"This is an historic moment since it marks a departure in policy from the traditional Board of Directors which met annually to approve legal transactions," said Sister Ann Vincent.

Since 1966 St. Joseph's Villa has had an active Advisory Board. The new Board encompasses the former membership of the Advisory Board and expands their duties to include policy-making decisions. It is the intent of the Board to preserve the Christian values which the Villa has traditionally provided in its services to children and families.

Officers of the Board are Richard J. Rahm, president; Max McCarthy, vice-president; Sister Ann Vincent DeRitis, secretary-treasurer; Peter J. Genga, recording secretary.

St. Joseph's Villa is administered by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Rochester.

HOW CAN YOU GAIN BY RESERVING A MAUSOLEUM CRYPT NOW?

Since death and burial is as much a part of life as birth, it is our personal obligation to plan and prepare for our memorial estate. There is no more practical or desirable method than mausoleum entombment. The cost, if arranged in advance of need, will be less than future burial costs. The clean-dry-vented above ground crypt made of concrete, steel and granite assures one of permanent dignity forever. Perpetual care is provided thru trust funds already established.

Please let me have information on Cemetery lots and Mausoleum Crypts. Of course there is no obligation. CJ9/15/76
