What phase of school life most appeals to you?

DESALES

Denise Porterfield, sophomore, volleyball

"Lunch. It's a time to get to talk to people and get to know them real well. It helps me to face the rest of the school day. It also gives me a chance to catch up on last minute home work."

Laure Stuchkus, sophomore

"I think sports are important because they give you a fuller school life and you meet more friends. School dances also let you meet friends and outsiders and make school most enjoyable."

"I think sports. They teach responsibility and through them you meet new friends. It makes school more enjoyable because it gives a balance between school work and extracurricular activities. The student government because it helps you cope with the government you will face when you become an adult."

Jill Sullivan, sophomore, cheerleading

"I think the extracurricular activities because if you've had a hard day at school they give you time to get it out of your system. I think that the activities make school more bearable. While in your classes they give you something to look forward to plus they give you a chance to meet other people."

Paul Hurley, sophomore, football

"The atmosphere and the people around you. Extracurricular activities have a place in school. They bring about spirit in a school and they give the students more excitement if they are involved in these extracurricular activities."

Max Venuti, sophomore, football

"I like sports. I think it's fun for kids to participate and the more the students get involved the more enjoyable high school will be for them. School would really be dull if there weren't sports and other extracurricular events. You enjoy school more when you have particular programs to look forward to."

Bob Golden, sophomore, guitar

"It's good to be back with friends. The extracurricular activities add to my enjoyment of school. They add to the school and put variety into the school schedule. I like the ski club. Quite a few students turn out for this club."

Tina Lorsche, sophomore, soccer

"Besides the academics the extracurricular activities are relaxing to a student especially after the tension of the day. Creative clubs, sports and student council all make school a lot more fun. It's fun to learn but it is also fun to be involved."

Nazareth Opens Busy Year

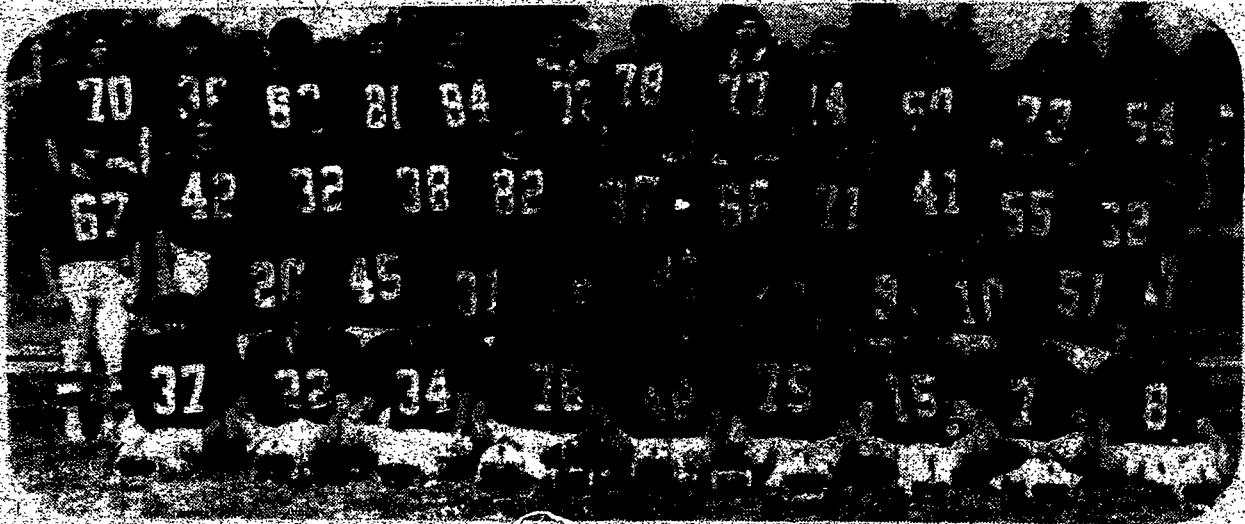

Nazareth Academy's yearbook staff spent some busy summer days planning their 1977 edition of the "Lantern." With school in session again, editors Maria Meschino, Linda Miceli, Ellen Muoio, Anna Ferrara and Amy Pettit are back in full swing. Adviser, Sister Elaine Englert, a veteran of two years, expects an unusually good book this year because the staff is experienced and has a great deal of creativity.

Organization is a major part of yearbook planning. Late August and early September are spent discussing such matters as print size and style, paper texture, divider pages and theme. Important events begin right in the first week of school so editors have to be on the spot with a photographer to capture the pictures that make up the heart of the yearbook.

"If it sounds like work, it is," declares editor Ellen Muoio, "but we really get a great deal of satisfaction from student approval and the knowledge that we have put out the best possible publication we can. Our major objective is to produce a publication that is well representative of our school and that we can be proud to display."

Also, Nazareth is getting ready for its annual chocolate drive! The chocolate bars will be sold far and wide by enthusiastic students hoping to help their school and hoping to win the prizes and honors that will be awarded the top sellers. This year's goal is $30,000, and the drive's kickoff assembly will be September 24. The Class of '77 is planning its strategy for upholding the tradition of seniors bringing in 100 percent of their quota on the first day of returns. According to Vice principal Sister Jeannine who coordinates this drive, many prizes have been planned. Top salesman will win $100 cash; top salesman in each class will be given $50 and $10 will be given to each homeroom that brings in its quota the first day. A special party will be planned for the highest homeroom.

Education is a social process. Education is growth. Education is not a preparation for life; education is life itself.
