

PAID POLITICAL ADVERTISING

Ford to New York: Drop Dead

DAILY NEWS, THURSDAY, OCT. 30, 1975.

Sometime when you think of Jerry Ford as president for four more years, remember the Barry Goldwater remark about sawing off the northeast and letting it fall into the Atlantic. That's what this election is really all about. If Ford wins, the northeast is gone and so are Catholics, since they are the largest population group of the region. Jim Miller, The Tablet, Sept. 2, 1976.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz has been fired for a slur against blacks. You'll remember he was not fired for a similar slur against Catholics. Tablet Editorial, Nov. 2, 1976.

I am appalled at the misrepresentation of Governor Carter's position on issues important to Catholics such as aid to parochial schools and the taxation of church property. Governor Carter strongly favors aid to parochial schools and opposes any plan to tax church property. Sec. of State Mario Cuomo Oct. 17, 1976.

On more than a half-dozen key issues—the economy, unemployment, a guaranteed income, health care for example—the Democratic Platform agrees with the United States Catholic Conference and the Republican Platform does not. National Catholic News Service, Sept. 24, 1976.

We need leadership again that will instill respect for our institutions and for each other—and make every American aware that a slur against any ethnic minority— is a slur against us all. If ever a member of my Cabinet uttered a racial slur a contemptuous joke against Italian or Blacks or Poles— I wouldn't wait for the public reaction, I wouldn't reprimand him, I'd fire him on the spot. Gov. Carter, Chicago, Oct. 11, 1976.

Carter Advocates Less Government, Stronger Families

CATHOLIC REGISTER, OCT. 6, 1976.

It is clear that the national government should have a strong pro-family policy, but the fact is that our government has no family policy, and that is the same thing as an anti-family policy. Because of confusion or insensitivity, our government's policies have often actually weakened our families, or even destroyed them. We need a government that thinks about the American family and cares about the American family and makes its every decision with the intent of strengthening the family. Remarks by Jimmy Carter on the American Family, Manchester, N.H. Aug. 3, 1976.

Neighborhoods and families are the living fiber that holds our society together. Until we place them at the very top of our national policy, our hopes for the nation, and our goals for our private lives, will not be attained. Gov. Carter, Brooklyn College, Sept. 6, 1976.

Instead of denouncing Jimmy Carter we should encourage him. For if he keeps his promise it will be a monumental advance over what President Ford has done regarding abortion. Whereas Jimmy Carter has promised: "I'll do all I can within the framework of the Supreme Court decision to hold down the number of abortions. I don't think government ought to spend any money to finance abortion." Msgr. Salvatore Adamo, editor, Catholic Star Herald, Diocese of Camden, N.J.

By the honest and open way with which he has gone into the ethnic neighborhoods of big American cities to listen and learn, Carter may have set up a resonance with the people who live in these neighborhoods. Such skills show a great political adroitness. More than that, they also show a gifted human being. Andrew Greeley, N. Y. Daily News Oct. 5, 1976.

Jimmy Carter told Catholic social workers that he favored aid to parents where children attend non-segregated private schools. Richard Tucker, The Denver Catholic Register, Oct. 6, 1976.

"Paid for and authorized by 1976 Democratic Presidential Campaign Committee, Inc."