

FRANK Congressman HORTON

Working Hard For A Better Tomorrow

- Frank Horton's legislative record is uncommonly good.

He succeeds because his colleagues in both parties respect him. Frank Horton knows that the heart of the legislative process is the work done in Committee. He excels in forging constructive compromises among Committee members. When the other side has been unwilling to compromise, Frank Horton has taken his position to the full House of Representatives. He has never lost one of those floor fights.

- Frank Horton has always placed first emphasis on the needs of the people of his District. He is in the 34th District at least 40 weekends a year. His work on local problems, ranging from the economy to high Lake levels is well known, as are his concerns for senior citizens, minorities, and for education, housing, health and other human needs. Whether he's attending public meetings, helping people with their problems or carrying your views to Washington, you can always count on Congressman Frank Horton being there when you need him.
