Behind these solid Northern White Cedar Log Walls
lives a warm, dry
happy household

This lovely home is made of solid cedar logs, carefully milled with heavy tenons and grooves. It has been planed smooth inside and treated with a special preservative to last for many years. The same 20 year old cedar is used for the log walls. The log walls have been built by loggers for over 100 years and hold the evidence to prove it.

Solid cedar resists the transfer of heat, making it an excellent insulator. A home built of this remarkable material is heat efficient in winter, cool efficiently in summer. There are many other reasons why your home should be one of our Ward Northern White Cedar cabins. Write or phone us today!
