

Campus Ministry at RIT

RIT's Catholic chaplains confer with Pastor Kenneth Carlson, RIT Protestant chaplain. On college campuses, chaplains often work ecumenically at presenting a united Christian witness to the academic community. Left to right: Father Thomas Erdle, Pastor Kenneth Carlson, Sister Shirley Pilot, and Father Gerald J. Appelby.

Ingle Auditorium may look like an ultra-modern church, and in a way, it is. Located in the College Union at RIT, the auditorium is the site of movies, plays, and, on Sunday, Mass is celebrated here as well.

Sherry Palmer "signs" portions of the Mass as well as the lyrics of the songs for the NTID students.

Father Appelby preaches while Father Erdle "signs" the homily for the deaf students.

Music is provided each week by students, faculty, and other parishioners.
