

ALL IN THE FAMILY

Sarah Child

There are few bargains today as good as can be found at used book sales.

The local library branch held its first annual fundraiser a few weeks ago and it was a winner.

The head of the house went first and came home with his own personal copy of "Lives of the Saints" in mint condition and with an introduction by Franciscan Father Tom Plassman who at my alma mater was considered worthy of inclusion in the body of the work.

The book cost 25 cents.

One of the children and I went next and hit paydirt. A quarter purchased a copy of Webster's Collegiate Dictionary which obviously had been used - possibly once or twice in the original owner's freshman year. Since my own copy had long been coverless and dog-

...eared, I was delighted. The identical copy of this particular dictionary can be bought at any stationery or book store for the price of $10.50. As a crossword puzzle aide it is near-perfect since it fits much better on one's lap than, say, the unabridged edition of the 2,500-page Random House Dictionary.

Another 25 cents purchased a copy of Louise Dickinson Rich's "We Took to the Woods," telling the true story of the author's isolated life deep in the Maine woods and which I re-read every 10 years or so.

The best was yet to come. For the grand sum of $1.50 we trudged out with the 19 volumes called the Book of Knowledge. The original dust jackets were still on the set and if anybody ever gave this reference work more attention than an occasional dusting from time to time, I'll eat the index.

At this point we had to leave for an errand but promised to come back to check out large bundles of magazines stashed in grocery bags. Again a quarter would purchase a bunch of National Geographic, Art News, etc.

We returned five minutes before the door closed and the bundles were now 10 cents each. With some 15 old copies of "Sunset Magazine" under my arm I headed home and started perusing this compendium of Western style life, including gardening, cooking and architecture.

"Clutter, clutter," hissed our oldest daughter whose self-appointed job it is to keep the family room passable.

Ignoring the taunts, I skimmed through and almost immediately found an excuse for my "extravagance." Seven or eight years ago my mom had clipped a recipe for barbecue chuck roast from her copy of "Sunset" and it had quickly become a family favorite. This year when she had tried to locate it for the first cookout it had disappeared.

In front of me in the May 1970 copy was none other than the same recipe. We clipped it and the Sunday cookout artist performed his magic the next day. It was delectable.

Scottsville Churches Set Area Census

Scottsville—Three area churches, Grace Episcopal, Union Presbyterian and St. Mary's of the Assumption, will join forces this month to conduct a door-to-door census of the Scottsville area.

Msgr. Gerard Krieg, pastor of St. Mary's said recently that each of the more than 4,000 residences in the Town of Wheatland, the southern portion of Chili and the northern portion of Livingston County will be contacted.

Those residents who claim affiliation with one of the three participating churches will be asked to complete a census form. Those not affiliated with any church will not be asked to provide census data, according to Rev. David Edman, pastor of Grace Episcopal.

A committee of more than 150 volunteers will be recruited on a proportional basis from all three churches. Under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Wilkins, Mrs. Ruth Kuhn, Mrs. Lil Maslyn, Mrs. Lois Harding, Mrs. Jane Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Carter and Mrs. Ella Casey, the census will be conducted from June 9 to June 20.

Rev. Ronald Sallade, pastor of Union Presbyterian, noted that many new families have moved into the area and are unaware of the many community, religious and social functions sponsored by the three churches.

THE HOLY FATHER'S MISSION AID TO THE ORIENTAL CHURCH

You are needed . . . to act as a Mom or Dad to an orphan in the Holy Land, Ethiopia, or India. The cost is very little. The satisfaction is great. More than half of the 1,800,000 refugees in the Holy Land are boys and girls. A great many are orphans. Some barely exist by begging for milk, food, clothing. Others are in the Holy Father's care - supported by the generous friends of Near East Missions . . . You can 'adopt' one of these children and guarantee him (or her) three meals a day, a warm bed, love and companionship and preparation to earn his own living. An orphan's support costs only $14 a month . . . $168 a year. Send us the first month's support and we will send your 'adopted' child's photo. You can write to him or her. The Sister who cares for your child will write to you, if the child cannot write yet. A close bond of love will develop. Please send the coupon with your offering today.
