

Youth Ministry Needs Help

The Immaculate Conception Youth Ministry is now conducting a Communication Skills Program for young people 7-21. The program features both a typing class and a foreign language class (French at present).

Dawn M. Williams, program coordinator, has issued a plea for second hand typewriters so that the classes can continue. She said that there are only five typewriters now in use and the programs "is in desperate need" of more. The ICYM asks that the typewriters be in fairly good condition, needing only minor repairs.
