

... Makes
... Appeal
... IA-4A

Seneca County
Food Stamps
Criticized . . . 10

Pastoral Change
Made . . . 2

Fr. Halloran

COURIER-JOURNAL

NEWSPAPER OF THE DIOCESE OF ROCHESTER

24 Pages, 2 Sections

Wednesday, May 17, 1978

OUR 95th YEAR

20 Cents

Graffiti

Drivers along Route 47 South on Monday morning were able to read "ordain women" now painted on the rear wall of the Pastoral Center on Buffalo Road. The message was painted by unknown persons sometime over the weekend, according to Earl Kurtz, chief of the Pastoral Center plant.

Photo by Susan McKinney

Jesse Jackson Lauds Schools

Chicago (RNS) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson, head of Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity) has urged city boards of education to emulate Roman Catholic schools in seeking to upgrade their standards.

In his syndicated column, which appears regularly in some 50 newspapers, the noted civil rights leader wrote that "for a model for their own resurrection, big city boards of education may not have to look any further than to the Catholic school down the block and around the corner from the public school."

According to the black Baptist minister, "the difference between the two schools isn't neighborhood or the children's character or religion. It's a question of what the school expects of its students and its parents and what parents and students expect from the school."

Jackson wrote that "Catholic schools typically require their students to do homework

— no ifs, ands or buts about it. Parents are expected to answer when called on and to enforce the school's requirements about homework, grooming, conduct, attendance and punctuality."

The Operation PUSH leader stressed that "if students — or parents — fail to meet these responsibilities, expulsion follows. Catholic schools know what their job is — to educate, not to baby sit. Catholic school teachers typically are less well-paid and less secure than their public school colleagues. Yet, their students frequently are better educated and motivated than their public school counterparts."

Jackson suggested that "the difference would seem to be in greater dedication, discipline and determination among Catholic school teachers — qualities no teachers' contract can guarantee, deliver or pay for."

Robert C. Doell To Be Ordained

Robert C. Doell will be ordained a priest on Saturday, May 20, at 11 a.m. by Auxiliary Bishop John E. McCafferty at Holy Ghost Church in Coldwater, where the ordinand has this year served as a deacon intern.

Father Doell, the son of Donald and Florence Doell of Northeast Avenue, attended St. Stanislaus-Kostka School and was graduated from Bishop Kearney High School in 1967. In 1971 he completed his studies at St. John Fisher College and earned a BA in History. He pursued graduate studies at the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies in Toronto and received an MA in Mediaeval Studies from the University of Toronto in 1973.

At St. Bernard's Seminary,

Father Doell was awarded a Master of Divinity degree. In his first year at St. Bernard's he was vice-president of his class and in his fourth year he served as his class representative and as vice chairman of the Student Council.

During his years in preparation for the priesthood, Father Doell taught religion at St. John the Evangelist in Greece where he also assisted for two years on weekends. He was an assistant in the Rehabilitation Department of the Monroe County Jail for a year. For Clinical Pastoral Education he served as chaplain in a cooperative placement between the Colorado State Hospital and Parkview Episcopal Hospital in Pueblo, Colo. During his deacon year he served in St. Leo's Church in Hilton.

FATHER DOELL

A reception at Holy Ghost parish hall will follow the ordination rites. Father Doell will celebrate his First Mass of Thanksgiving at 3 p.m. on Sunday, May 21 at St. Stanislaus, followed by a reception in that parish hall. The following Sunday, May 28, Father Doell will celebrate a Mass of Thanksgiving at 9:45 a.m. at Holy Ghost Church.

Bishop W. Foery Of Syracuse Dies at Age 87

Bishop Walter A. Foery of Syracuse, a Rochesterian who worked in this diocese for the first 21 years of his priesthood, died May 10, 1978, at his home in Syracuse. He was 87 years old.

He was the fifth bishop of Syracuse, and he served for 33 years, from 1937 until his retirement in 1970.

Bishop Foery was a member of the St. Bernard's class of 1916. He continued to maintain close ties with the seminary, as Bishop Joseph L. Hogan noted in a message of condolence to the people of Syracuse.

BISHOP FOERY

After his ordination June 10, 1916, Father Foery was assigned to Mt. Carmel parish. He was appointed pastor in 1922, and from 1932 until 1937 he was pastor of Holy Rosary, serving meanwhile, 1930-

1937, as director of Catholic Charities.

Bishop Foery was born July 6, 1890. He attended St. Bridget's School before entering St. Andrew's Seminary in 1910.

Bishop Hogan Offers Prayer, Sympathy

To Bishop Harrison and Bishop Costello, to the priests, religious and laity of the Diocese of Syracuse, and to the family of Bishop Foery:

We of the Diocese of Rochester offer our prayers and sympathy on the occasion of the passing of a great spiritual leader. The first 21 years of his priesthood were spent in the Diocese of Rochester, at Mt. Carmel and Holy Rosary parishes, and as director of Catholic Charities. After his ordination as Bishop of Syracuse in 1937 he continued to maintain close ties with the Diocese of Rochester. Syracuse has been our good neighbor to the east largely because of his abiding interest in St. Bernard's Seminary, where many of the priests of his diocese received their training.

I am personally grateful for his friendship and for the inspiration of his life.

May the Lord grant him eternal rest in peace!

Joseph L. Hogan

Bishop to Say TV Mass

Bishop Joseph L. Hogan will celebrate the television Mass for shut-ins over WHEC-TV, Channel 10, at 8 a.m., Sunday, May 21, Diocesan Missions Sunday.