Joyous Day16

The laying on of hands proved to be an emotional experience for many of the more than 200 persons who received the Sacrament of the Sick as part of a Communal Anointing Service at St. Patrick's in Elmira recently. Bishop Joseph L. Hogan told the recipients to "have no fear, this is a beautiful, joyous occasion."

Ad Multos. 6

Msgr. Leo G. Schwab was feted last week on his 60th anniversary of ordination. Joining him for the festivities were Bishop Joseph L. Hogan, and (at left) his nephew, Father Donald Schwab, among many others. The Courier-Journal this week presents tributes from two friends of the monsignor, each from a unique perspective. One is by retired layman Harry Seeback, the other by Sister Margaret Hammerl, a cloistered Dominican nun.

Back trek 14

Learning about local history is one thing — seeing it is another. Recently, Sister Campion Bush and Mrs. Maryanne Saterlee escorted a group of Nazareth students to the Genesee Country Museum in Mumford. The historical community afforded the visitors a day of meandering through 19th Century log cabins, elegant manor houses, churches and country stores.

Section 5 14

Aquinas took the City-Catholic League baseball championship and along with Cardinal Mooney has moved into Section 5 competition. AQ coach Rich Pilliter, in RapAround sports, outlines how it all came about and who made it happen.

UN Hailed 1

Pope Paul VI last week hailed the U.N. Special Session on Disarmament and has given his unqualified encouragement to the deliberations.

Sister Ann 12, 13

Folks around the Bull's Head area in Rochester know Sister Ann William as more than executive director of St. Mary's Hospital. They know her as a person deeply interested in the quality of life in the neighborhood in which the hospital is located. On a recent Saturday, the residents even saw her out helping clean the streets.

As the crises deepen for cities around the country, many of the old models of responding to the needs of urban dwellers are falling by the wayside, and nowhere is the presence of the Church more sharply noticeable than there, especially as it tries to develop its urban ministries.

New Office 1

The Diocesan Sisters Council has passed yet another milestone in the development of an office for a Vicar for Religious Service. At last week's meeting, the DSC, heard a preliminary report from its design committee which proposed that a team be hired to minister to the needs of religious in the diocese.
